Gemini Pair Rides To Perfect Landing

Map pinpoints landing site of Gemini 9 In Atlantic Ocean.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini astronauts rode the Gemini 9 spaceship to a perfect safe landing in the Atlantic Ocean today, climaxing a sensational, often -troublesome flight highlighted by Eugene A. Cernan's record space walk.

Millions of television watchers had a ringside seat as the four-ton ship, blackened by the fiery dash back through the earth's atmosphere, splashed into the sea at 10 a.m. EDT about 345 miles east of Cape Kennedy — just four miles from the aircraft carrier Wasp.

The thrilling picture of the craft floating down under its orange and white parachute was beamed from the deck of the Wasp via the Early Bird satellite.

It was the first time that a manned U.S. spacecraft had landed close enough to a recovery carrier to permit the live televising of the landing.

Command Pilot Thomas P. Stafford, whose cool, on-the-spot decisions played a key role in the flight, skillfully steered his tiny ship through a blazing reentry dive and "parked" it in the Atlantic Ocean "on the money."

He had an assist from an easterly wind that helped blow the craft back toward the carrier.

While thousands of sailors, wearing their Sunday best, cheered, the Wasp maneuvered alongside and retrieved the astronauts and space craft from the sea 50 minutes after splashdown.

Stafford and Cernan acknowledged the cheers with waves and thumbs-up signals. Both appeared relaxed and in excellent physical condition.

The spacecraft hatch was opened nine minutes after touchdown and Stafford and Cernan stood up. Stafford shook hands with the swimmers.

It was a successful and dramatic end to a flight which had its ups and downs, with one problem after another plaguing the mission before and after the launching.

During 72 hours and 21 minutes in orbit, Cernan and Stafford circled the globe 45 times and traveled nearly 1.2 million miles.

Their fiery return to earth started 160 miles above the Pacific Ocean near the international dateline when the craft's four retro-rockets fired with a jolt at 9:26 a.m. EDT.

The braking action slowed Gemini 9's 17,460-mile-and-hour speed by 300 miles and the craft, caught in the grip of earth's gravity, began the meteoric plunge back through the heat barrier of the earth's atmosphere.

Mission Control Center reported after the landing that the communications through the 34-minute re-entry period were better than on any of 12 previous U.S. man-in-space flights.

Only during a four-minute period when 3,000-degree heat shrouded the spacecraft in an ionization curtain was contact lost with the pilots.

"Have you got us in sight?" Stafford asked as Gemini 9 drifted down on its 84-foot chute.

The aircraft carrier Wasp advised that it did and added: "The whole world has you in sight."

The sailors on the Wasp crowded the deck as the big carrier turned to approach the spacecraft in the water and haul it aboard. They were cheering the astronauts riding in the mild seas.

Stafford and Cernan planned to spend only a few hours aboard the carrier, then fly to Cape Kennedy in the afternoon.

Gemini officials were anxious to start questioning them about the numerous problems that plagued them in space, primarily the fogged helmet visor that cut Cernan's space walk short after 2 hours 5 minutes, half an hour earlier than intended.

The frosted visor, combined with garbled radio communications, prohibited Cernan from using a rocket-powered back pack to maneuver in space.

Still, the walk was considered a remarkable success. Cernan was outside the orbiting Gemini 9 six times longer than U. S. astronaut Edward H. White II and 12 times longer than Soviet cosmonaut Alexei Leonov — the two other men to venture into the alien weightless world far from their home planet.

"This represents a major milestone," said Gemini program manager Charles Mathews. "We've learned so much on how hard EVA (extra-vehicular activity) is. We've learned man can go out and not become disoriented, not become excited and conduct it with a very rational approach."

The walk overshadowed earlier disappointments in the hard-luck flight whose troubles date back to last Feb. 28 when the original crew, astronauts Elliot M. See Jr., and Air Force Maj. Charles A. Bassett II, were killed in a jet plane crash.

Almost forgotten in the excitement of the Sunday stroll through the stars were the failure of an Atlas-Agena target rocket that caused one of three postponements and the "angry alligator" — a target satellite whose shrouded docking collar prevented a space linkup by Stafford and Cernan.

While Cernan became a hero as a record space-walker, Stafford earned plaudits for his skillful command of Gemini 9 and for his cool thinking under great pressure.

Stafford, 35, balding, slow-talking Air Force lieutenant colonel, made the decision Saturday to postpone the space walk 24 hours because he and Cernan were "bushed" after the lengthy pursuit of the target satellite — the third complicated rendezvous they had executed successfully in 20 hours.

Then, as Cernan was preparing to shove out of an equipment section with the back pack, Stafford assessed the fogged visor and communications problems and told a ground station in Hawaii:

"It's about four or five times more work than what we anticipated. And the pilot's visor is completely fogged over. Communications are very poor. He sounds like a loud gargle.

"If the situation doesn't improve — it's no go on the AMU (astronaut maneuvering unit)."

Minutes later, Stafford reported:

"It is fogged over completely.

Sheppard Failed To Get 'Fair Trial,' Court Rules

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, Ohio physician, did not receive a fair trial in the bludgeon slaying of his first wife, Marilyn.

Justice Tom C. Clark, announcing the decision, said the court had concluded "that Sheppard did not receive a fair trial consistent with the due process clause of the 14th Amendment."

The court, therefore, Clark said, reversed a 2-1 decision by the U.S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati, which found no evidence that Sheppard had been deprived of federal rights.

Clark concluded his opinion by saying the Sheppard case must go back to the U.S. District court in Ohio and that court must order Sheppard released from custody "unless the state puts him to its charges again within a reasonable time."

Justice Hugo L. Black, voted a dissent.

The former Cleveland Osteopath, convicted of second degree murder and sentenced to life imprisonment in the 1954 slaying, claimed in his appeal to the high court that prejudicial news media publicity tainted the trial judge and jury.

In reply, Ohio Atty. Gen. Willeam B. Saxbe said Sheppard was convicted in a fair trial.

The case was of special significance because two constitutional rights were at issue, freedom of the press and fair trial.

Sheppard, who all along maintained he was innocent, served more than nine years in prison before U.S. Dist. Judge Carl Weinman ordered his release in 1964 on grounds he had not received a fair trial.

Last May, the U.S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati set aside Weinman's ruling.

The Circuit Court ordered Sheppard's return to prison, but in July granted a stay to permit him to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Sheppard was convicted in December 1954 in the slaying of his pregnant wife. He said a bushy-haired intruder broke into their home in Bay Village, a Cleveland suburb, killed her and knocked him onconscious.

Justice Clark's 29-page opinion reviewed in detail the circumstances around the news coverage of the Sheppard trial, and then stated:

"The fact is that bedlam reigned at the courthouse during the trial and newsmen took over practically the entire courtroom, hounding most of the participants in the trial, especially Sheppard."

Clark said there was no doubt that "this deluge of publicity" by newspapers and broadcasters "reached at least some of the jury."

Justice Clark said Sheppard's attorney requested stricter rules governing the use of the courtroom by newsmen, and Clark commented that newsmen "certainly should not have been placed inside the bar" of the court. The bar—or railing—separates spectators from participants in a trial.

Clark made suggestions as to proper coverage of trials that hold great public interest, and went on to assert:

"From the cases coming here we note that unfair and prejudicial news comment on pending trials has become increasingly prevalent. Due process requires that the accused receive a trial by an impartial jury free from outside influences. Given the pervasiveness of modern communications and the difficulty of effacing the prejudical publicity from the minds of jurors, the trial courts must take strong measures to ensure that the balance is never weighed against the accused.

"And appellate tribunals have the duty to make an independent evaluation of the circumstances."

Ky Faces New Protests

Slate Fails To Include Extremists

Buddhists Say New Move By Ky Regime Increases Friction

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime nominated a slate of 10 civilians today to join the 10-man ruling junta but excluded Buddhist extremists opposing the government.

The list included some moderate Buddhists, Roman Catholics and representatives of the Cao Dai and Hoa Hao sects. But the absence of any militant Buddhists pointed to the imminent danger of a collapse of the political truce between the regime and the unified Buddhist Church.

Even before the government published the list, the Buddhist Institute said: "This cannot solve anything but only increase the opposition from the people." A spokesman said the Buddhists wouldn't join the government if asked.

The ruling generals drafted the list of civilians several hours before a deadline agreed on last week in negotiations between moderate Buddhist elements and the Ky regime to end the political crisis.

'Hold Fast To Your Faith,' Seniors Told By Minister

The 1966 Class of East Liverpool High School was cautioned to hold fast to their faith and a good conscience at baccalaureate rites Sunday night at Memorial Auditorium.

The Rev. Arthur S. Williams told the class, which will be graduated Tuesday night, and a capacity crowd:

"We want you to go through the campaign of life holding fast to your faith in God, your faith in yourself, your faith in your cause, and your faith that you live in a world that has some significance, and holding fast to a good conscience."

The minister of the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church declared the seniors have believed the primary objective has been academic but the chief aim of their parents, teachers and spiritual advisers "has been to bring you to this event as a person of high moral integrity, deep religious faith, and as a person committed to the good, beautiful, pure and holy things of life."

"The idea that faith is an intellectual feat unrelated to morals meets no encouragement here," said Rev. Williams, an ELHS graduate whose son, William, is a member of the current class.

"I believe it is essential that each one of us knows just exactly where we are in the world of today. We need to know as individuals, families, churches and nations."

The rapid increase of divorce, higher and higher taxes, the mad craze for pleasure, building of gigantic armaments and the decay of religion were credited by Gibbon in 1787 with the decline and fall of the Roman Empire, Rev. Williams pointed out.

He recalled a recent speech by Henry Ford II in which the auto manufacturer declared, "'What really counts. . .is not the ingenuity of technology or the growth of the national product, but the quality of our society and our individual lives. The basic measures are. . .human satisfaction and fulfillment

Cycle Strikes Cow On Road, Injuring Man

A Homeworth man was injured seriously at 2:30 a. m. today when his motorcycle struck a cow in the northwestern section of Columbiana County, just over three miles east of the Stark County line.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Jack Stewart, 33, of Homeworth was taken to Alliance City Hospital with injuries suffered when his vehicle struck the animal on County Rd. 400 a mile and eight-tenths west of County Rd. 404.

Stewart was driving southwest when the cow wandered onto the highway into his path. The impact killed the cow.

Stewart suffered a fractured leg and wrist, lacerations of the head and a possible skull fracture.

A 1959 convertible operated by Roxanne VanHorn, 18, of Salem was struck by a 1965 pickup truck driven by Joseph Keck, 46, of Columbiana R. D. 1 Sunday at 9:30 a. m. at the intersection of Routes 45 and 344 north of Lisbon, the patrol said.

Officers said Keck pulled from a side road into the side of the convertible. Following the impact, the convertible rammed into a guardrail.

Keck was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way. The girl complained of injuries and was to see her family physician.

$10,000 Loss Seen In Blaze

Wellsville District House Destroyed

Loss was estimated in excess of $10,000 in a fire which gutted a modern A-frame type home in Madison Township near Wellsville Saturday night.

The blaze completely destroyed the interior of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Smith of James Addition on Route 45.

Wellsville firemen received the call at 10:28 p. m. A neighbor saw the fire and notified the department.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were not at home at the time and could not be contacted last night. They had been there shortly before the fire started.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis said the blaze was brought under control in about 20 minutes and extinguished in an hour.

Shafer Picks Broderick As Running Mate

Lawyer Selected To Seek Lieutenant Governor Position

HARRISBURG (AP) — Combat veteran Raymond J. Broderick, a Philadelphia lawyer, is Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer's choice for a running mate, the Associated Press has learned.

Shafer, the Republican nominee for governor, made his choice before leaving Pittsburgh Sunday for a European trip to drum up foreign trade for his state, the AP learned exclusively Sunday.

State Republican Committee members will assemble in Philadelphia June 18 to elect a replacement for the late Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandroni who had been the party choice for lieutenant governor.

Broderick, 52, married and the father of five, is chairman of the Philadelphia Republican Policy Committee.

Broderick's name on the ticket would lend geographical and ethnic balance.

Broderick is a Roman Catholic from a populous part of Eastern Pennsylvania. Shafer, a Protestant, is a native of Meadville in the northeastern part of the state.

Officers Cite 2 In Hancock During Raids

Hearings Arranged Wednesday In 2 Tavern Arrests

West Virginia State Police cited the proprietors of two Chester area taverns on three charges in raids early Sunday.

Thomas Betras, identified as the owner of the Rio Club, was charged with possessing gambling devices and Robert Fryer, licensee of the Half Moon Bar, was accused of possesion of liquor and gambling devices. Both establishments are in the Stewart's Hill area back of Chester.

Each posted bond for hearings Wednesday before Squire Richard Wright in Newell.

State police said the raids were made between 1 and 2 Sunday morning. They alleged that gambling devices were confiscated at both establishments.

Officers said a gambling table was confiscated at the Rio Club, which is on Route 30 about 300 feet east of Stewart's Hill. At the Half Moon Bar, which is about 300 feet west of the same hill, the officers said they found two poker tables, a change box,

Shafer Picks Broderick As Running Mate

Lawyer Selected To Seek Lieutenant Governor Position

HARRISBURG (AP) — Combat veteran Raymond J. Broderick, a Philadelphia lawyer, is Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer's choice for a running mate, the Associated Press has learned.

Shafer, the Republican nominee for governor, made his choice before leaving Pittsburgh Sunday for a European trip to drum up foreign trade for his state, the AP learned exclusively Sunday.

State Republican Committee members will assemble in Philadelphia June 18 to elect a replacement for the late Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandroni who had been the party choice for lieutenant governor.

Broderick, 52, married and the father of five, is chairman of the Philadelphia Republican Policy Committee.

Broderick's name on the ticket would lend geographical and ethnic balance.

Broderick is a Roman Catholic from a populous part of Eastern Pennsylvania. Shafer, a Protestant, is a native of Meadville in the northeastern part of the state.

2 Races Scheduled

Chester Election Due On Tuesday

A light vote is expected Tuesday as Chester voters go to the polls to name new city officials for two - year terms.

Polling places will open at 7 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

In the major contest, Burton G. Ward of 851 Phoenix Ave., a Republican, and Alvin B. Clutter of 544 River Dr., Democrat, are contesting for the mayor's office.

The incumbent, Harry Abrams, Republican, did not seek a new term.

IN THE ONLY other contest, Percy Willison of Pyramus St. is bidding for a 13th term as Fifth Ward councilman. A Republican, he is opposed by Albert A. Cronin of Lycia Ave., Democrat.

The unopposed candidates are:

Clerk - treasurer — Donald Hood, Republican.

1st Ward Councilman—Charles Kology, Democrat.

2nd Ward Councilman—Richard Johnston, Republican.

3r Ward Councilman—Thomas Bowen Jr., Democrat.

4th Ward Councilman—Robert Kincaid, Democrat.

—:—

CASHDOLLAR issued the forecast of a light vote.

Only 427 ballots were cast in the April primary.

Here are the locations of Chester's five polling places:

First Ward, Murray Garage.

Second Ward, Govey Building on Indiana Ave.

Third Ward, City Building.

Fourth Ward, Junior High School.

Fifth Ward, Werkheiser Building.

Sweltering Weather To Continue Tuesday

Sweltering weather that moved into the Tri - State District Sunday is scheduled to continue through Tuesday, the Ohio forecaster said today.

The weather will be partly cloudy, warm and humid through tomorrow, with scattered showers this afternoon and tonight and again Tuesday afternoon and night, the forecaster said.

The humid weather will be accompanied by a high temperature in the 80's today. The low tonight will be in the 60's. The mercury hit 64 at 5 a.m. today in the downtown area.

Officers Cite 2 In Hancock During Raids

Hearings Arranged Wednesday In 2 Tavern Arrests

West Virginia State Police cited the proprietors of two Chester area taverns on three charges in raids early Sunday.

Thomas Betras, identified as the owner of the Rio Club, was charged with possessing gambling devices and Robert Fryer, licensee of the Half Moon Bar, was accused of possesion of liquor and gambling devices. Both establishments are in the Stewart's Hill area back of Chester.

Each posted bond for hearings Wednesday before Squire Richard Wright in Newell.

State police said the raids were made between 1 and 2 Sunday morning. They alleged that gambling devices were confiscated at both establishments.

Officers said a gambling table was confiscated at the Rio Club, which is on Route 30 about 300 feet east of Stewart's Hill. At the Half Moon Bar, which is about 300 feet west of the same hill, the officers said they found two poker tables, a change box,

4,000 Watch Marchers In Newell's Fete

A crowd estimated at 4,000 watched the annual Newell firemen's parade Saturday night, with 20 fire companies, six high school bands and several other marching units participating. It marked the end of the annual firemen's fair.

The Vi-Lar Kadettes of East Liverpool were judged the best marching unit, while the Sailorettes of Salineville won second prize.

Miss Beverly Jividen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Jividen of 904 Grant St., was revealed as Miss Juniorette of 1966. Miss Sharon Ward, named queen in a recent Tri-State Area contest, also appeared.

Awards were presented to various fire companies as follows:

Calcutta — best heavy equipment pumper; Sebring, best light equipment pumper; McDonald, Pa. — best appearing emergency unit; Unity — oldest truck in service; Amsterdam, Ohio — best comical unit, and Elizabeth, Pa. — longest distance traveled—72 miles.

Judges included Mrs. Alice Ann McDevitt, for marching units, and Gail Ash, Al Johnson and Gordon Yost, fire equipment.

Earl Flesch was parade chairman.

PARADE WINNERS. The Vi-Lar Kadettes of East Liverpool display the winning style which brought them the first place award as the best marching unit in the annual Newell volunteer firemen's parade Saturday night. The parade attracted a crowd of 4,000, marking the end of the firemen's carnival.

League At Summitville Will Meet Wednesday

SUMMITVILLE — The Civic Improvement League will meet Wednesday at 8 p. m. in Township Hall to prepare for the homecoming June 23-25, Dean Dowdell, president, announced.

Advance tickets for amusement rides are available from all league members, Dowdell said.

Township fire department members and trustees will meet Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the fire hall to conduct a work night in preparation for the event. The trustees will hold a special meeting following the work session.

Picnic Plan Launched At NAACP's Session

Tentative plans were made for a picnic this summer at the meeting of the local chapter of the NAACP Saturday night at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. Annex. The date will be announced.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carter reported on the Freedom Fund banquet held May 28 at the Inn Town Motel.

Alonzo Spencer, president, announced that meetings will not be conducted during the summer. Sessions will resume in September.

3 Youngsters Hurt In Crash

Three children of an East Liverpool family were admitted to City Hospital Saturday afternoon with injuries suffered when a truck driven by their father was struck broadside at the intersection of Route 168 and Route 30 at Laughlins Corners.

Injured were Jeffery Cooper, 8, contusions and abrasions of the head and elbow; Jeannette Cooper, 2, and Janice Cooper, 2, both multiple abrasions. They were passengers in a truck driven by their father, Perry Cooper, 33, of 1005 May St.

Cooper, his wife, Mrs. Eleanor Cooper, and another son, James Cooper, escaped injury.

The accident happened at about 3 p.m. when Cooper was driving east on Route 30 and a northbound car operated by Vernon Butler of Grantsville, Md., failed to halt for a stop sign at Route 168 and struck Cooper's truck broadside, police said.

Pennsylvania State Police at the Carnegie Barracks reported $1,500 damage to both vehicles. They said Butler will be cited for failing to yield the right-of-way.

and the growth of harmony, good will and respect among men.'"

The thoughts are similar to the admonitions and exhortations of the Apostle Paul to Timothy in the text for the baccalaureate sermon, Rev. Williams continued.

The apostle reminded Timothy to be true to the word of the prophecy, that one battle does not constitute a war, and counseled him to keep with him always the essential and inseparable qualities of faith and a good conscience.

The minister pointed out: "By faith we overcome the world, by faith we overcome the flesh, by faith we overcome Satan, by faith we overcome every evil that raises up its head, and by faith we overcome death and the grave."

A good conscience, he continued, is a tender conscience, a conscience cleansed from guilt through the grace of God and the merit of Christ's atoning sacrifice, enlightened by the word of God, and quickened by God's spirit as He speaks.

Rev. Williams pointed out that Paul mentions those who have made shipwrecks of their lives by thrusting away faith.

"He who muffles conscience may live to see the day when conscience will not speak."

Prayer was offered by Capt. Richard L. Bosh of the Salvation Army.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Harold Estel of the Oakland Free Methodist Church and the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. E. C. Traylor of the First Church of Christ. Rev. Traylor also read the Scripture.

The choir directed by Robert Shankovich sang two anthems and the choral response followed the benediction.

The class entered and left the auditorium as the Blue Concert Band directed by Vincent Maola played the processional and recessional.

James Robinson, 19, of 324 E. Washington St., Lisbon, a passenger in the convertible, was not hurt.

Cars operated by Elsie Mae Whitehouse, 60, of W. Martin St., East Palestine, and Phillip I. Garey, 49, of Bell School Rd., East Liverpool R. D. 1, figured in a crash Saturday at 7:45 p.m. at the intersection of Routes 7 and 46.

The patrol said Garey was headed north on Route 7 when the woman pulled from Route 46 and hit the right front of his car. She was cited for failure to observe a stop sign.

2 Cars Damaged In Lisbon Crash

LISBON — Cars driven by Thomas E. Yarwood of Sebring and Alton B. Crothers of 615 N. Beaver St., Lisbon, collided at 2:10 p. m. Saturday on N. Beaver at the Market St. junction.

Police Capt. John Varner said Yarwood was driving north on Beaver and Crothers, traveling north on Market, turned left onto Beaver. The autos collided in the northbound lane of Beaver, police said.

No one was cited. There was minor damage to the left front of Crothers' car, and to the bumper of Yarwood's station wagon, police said.

Wellsville's Officers List 2 Minor Crashes

Two minor traffic accidents were investigated Saturday evening in Wellsville.

Police said a car operated by Lawrence F. Mick of Wellsville R. D. 1 scraped the side of a car owned by Willis H. Murray of 321 10th St., which was parked in front of his home at 6:15 p.m.

At 5:10 p.m., Marian Calhoun of 914 Commerce St. reported her parked car was hit in the left side by an unknown motorist who failed to halt.

We've Tried–And We'll Keep Trying

"Why doesn't The Review do something about 'The Strip'?"

The caller —a woman — was both sincere and concerned.

To refresh the memories of those whose memories may need refreshing, "The Strip" is the name applied to many of the establishments—primarily in the Route 30 area of Hancock County — where illegal operations are the rule rather than the exception.

We were somewhat taken aback by the question, having felt that over the years we have called attention time and again to the undesirable conditions that exist.

We complained to the governor of a previous administration at Charleston relative to the matter — and got nowhere, incidentally.

We appeared before a hearing at Wheeling of the West Virginia Crime Commission — and again got nowhere apparently.

Through our news columns, we have kept readers abreast of developments by turning the spotlight on raids and the resulting court hearings.

We have appealed to the law - abiding residents of the area to unite for action, with the feeling that an aroused citizenry quite often can achieve results where other methods have failed.

The Review is — and always will be — deeply concerned about the shady practices that have made a mockery of law enforcement in Hancock County. We want to see them eliminated—and as quickly as possible.

It's only by a stroke of good fortune that the picture hasn't been marred by more violence. When racketeers infest an area conflicts generally develop.

Gunplay may yet occur. Unfortunate as it would be, it may take something that drastic to shake things to the foundation and get results. We hope not, but the ingredients are there for real trouble.

Once more we appeal to residents of the area to organize and wage their own war on the illicit operations, the normal methods having gotten nowhere.

We pledge full support of any such effort.

Serving A Double Objective

District residents of the Jewish faith are doing their part in the bond drive on behalf of the State of Israel.

The emergence of the state in May 1948 out of the worst holocaust in Jewish history was the beginning of a new life for the survivors and for the oppressed Jews in scores of lands. Throughout these 18 eventful years, Israel has symbolized new life to its ancient homeland.

By its example and technical assistance to many new and less - developed countries, it also has raised the hopes of mankind for greater understanding and cooperation among all men.

Although Israel can be described as the fastest-growing country among the nations which have won their independence since the end of World War II, it, nevertheless, faces many continuing problems of development, including the major task of improving its unfavorable balance of trade. It will require additional investment capital in 1966 to expand its industrial production, to irrigate and settle large stretches of the desert, to build housing and schools in outlying areas for new immigrant families and to develop the skilled manpower to enable it to meet the standards of a western industrial economy.

The bond drive that was given added impetus with Sunday's dinner meeting here thus serves a double objective — to help the cause of freedom as well as the future growth of the Jewish state.

Land Tax Argument

By Raymond Moley

If the American people face any problems that approaches our commitment in Viet Nam, it is how our bursting and sprawling urban communities are going to get sufficient money to meet their needs. It may be anticipated that the Vietnamese dilemma may be resolved in a few years but the urban problem will haunt us for the rest of the century.

The urban problem is not merely the crowding into the central cities of a host of Negroes and other impoverished people. As this influx of needy people into the central cities increases, more and more middle-income people, regardless of race, are moving into the suburbs or beyond the suburbs. This means the necessity of finding houses to live in and the conveniences necessary to serve them.

It's reliably estimated that in the next 30 years something like $80 billion a year must be invested in building and rebuilding.

DESPITE THE TALL TALK from Washington that Uncle Sam will find ways to solve this problem, it is going to be necessary for private enterprise to carry at least 90 per cent of the responsibility.

In an address to the Home Builders Association of St. Louis recently, P. I. Prentice, who served for several years as editor and publisher of the builders and developers' magazine, House & Home, emphasized the major reason why the building and developing industry is facing vast difficulties in meeting the need.

He used as a text for his speech a sentence written by David Ricardo a century and a half ago: "The interests of the landowners are directly opposed to the interests of every other element of the economy."

It must be noted in evaluating this statement that Ricardo qualified for his classical treatise on political economy by a brilliantly successful career in business. He was no closet philosopher, but a very practical man.

PRENTICE APPLIES this principle of Ricardo to the critical urban problem in the United States by saying that what is good for the landowner is bad for the land developer, the home builder, the building material manufacturer, the architect, the mortgage lender, the realtor and that unfortunate fellow at the end of the line, the home buyer.

We hear a lot these days about inflation. But this usually centers upon rising prices for groceries, clothing and other products in daily use. There is another sort of inflation which is much more serious. It is inflation in the prices of land, especially land in and around the great urban complexes into which countless people are moving every day.

Prentice says that while President Johnson is lamenting the fact that the cost of living is rising between 2 and 3 per cent a year, "landowners have been upping their prices by something like 15 per cent a year compounded quarterly." This, he says, is pricing good new housing out of the market. He quotes Thomas Coogan, the elder statesman of the home-building industry: "Today all the profit is in the land."

THE REASON for this inflation in land prices is not that the land is scarce. It has nothing to do with the law of supply and demand. Prentice points out that the Indianapolis Planning Commission found 79,000 acres of unused land within minutes of downtown.

The air traveler can verify this any day by noting the great unused acreage all around the city he is approaching.

This unnatural and uneconomic inflation in land is, according to Prentice, due to two causes, both of which are susceptible to a remedy.

One is underassessment. Prentice cites examples. On Long Island an acre is priced at $20,000 and assessed at $300-$400. In Salt Lake City a man paid $6000 for land assessed at $300.

Consequently, unused land is undertaxed.

Thus, landowners can hold land off the market or sell at inflated prices. For it costs very little to hold it for still higher prices.

And the burden falls upon the builder and the man who wants a place to live. It sounds like wry comedy. But it is true.

Odd Facts

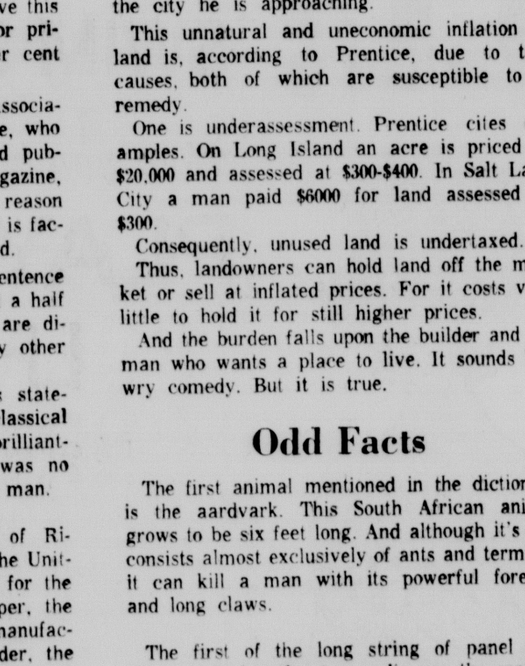
The first animal mentioned in the dictionary is the aardvark. This South African animal grows to be six feet long. And although it's diet consists almost exclusively of ants and termites, it can kill a man with its powerful forelegs and long claws.

The first of the long string of panel quiz shows to be broadcast on radio was the onetime popular "Information Please," which began May 17, 1938.

The present system of withholding personal income taxes from the wages of U.S. citizens was inaugurated July 1, 1943.

Grin And Bear It

"Let's look at this as a challenge! Let's prove how stubborn ten men can be!"



The Problems Of 'Covering' Viet Nam

The accompanying report was made to The Associated Press staff and member newspapers, including The Review, by Wes Gallagher, AP general manager. We thought our readers would be interested.

"Some reporters in Viet Nam are inexperienced — I think we are getting a headline type of coverage." — Robert H. Fleming, deputy White House press secretary.

"We are getting distorted reports from Viet Nam . . . the reporters are inexperienced." — Eldridge Durbrow, State Department representative, in a speech in Alabama.

"I am fed up with these attacks on the press — give us some facts on press coverage in Viet Nam." — a managing editor.

By WES GALLAGHER

The attacks are just a couple of a long series. The fact is the press always has been attacked in wartime because its reports frequently clash with government views and with the image government would like to present. And reporters, too, must bring unpleasant, confusing and discouraging reports to the public, which reacts, as all people do, with irritation.

There are two immutable rules on press criticism which are as inevitable as the tides.

Criticism of the press by government rises in direct proportion to the amount of adverse news printed which may not be in line with government policy.

Criticism by the public rises in direct proportion to the amount of news read which undermines what it would like to believe — above all on such emotional issues as the conflict in Viet Nam.

THE WAR IN VIET NAM more than any other in recent history has invoked these two axioms.

First let us deal with this "inexperience" charge. It is a "Sylvesterism" having been used frequently by the government, principally Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense, who conducts his own private guerrilla war against correspondents.

The inexperience charge is neither accurate nor pertinent to the situation.

The present Associated Press writing staff in Viet Nam ranges in age from 61 to 25, with experience in the business of reporting as follows: 35 years, 28 years, 23 years, 18 years, 14 years, 13 years, 11 years, 8 years and 7 years.

Three covered World War II and Korea. Two Pulitzer Prize winners Peter Arnett and Horst Faas, have been in Viet Nam four years each, which is longer than Ambassador Lodge, Gen. Westmoreland and nine-tenths of the Americans over there.

But neither age nor experience has anything to do with reporting. Young men fight wars and die, and young correspondents must report wars and sometimes die, as they have in every war in history.

In Viet Nam, in the past 14 months, two Associated Press men have been killed and six wounded. They were reporting first hand—not second-guessing from Washington.

One more statistic, because there has been some criticism that the press is not spending enough to cover the war. Last year the Associated Press spent three-quarters of a million dollars in Viet Nam on staff and communications.

Generalied attacks on correspondents as a group or upon individuals are not pertinent to the question of whether the truth is being reported from Viet Nam. The question is not who wrote the story but what the story said. Age is no guarantee against mistakes.

THE ONLY LEGITIMATE point at issue is whether each particular story is accurate in fact and detail.

An examination of the record of what has been reported from Viet Nam in the past four years and what government officials have said about Viet Nam in the same period leaves no doubt that the reporting has been more accurate than the official statements.

This does not mean everything reported from Viet Nam is accurate. It isn't. Mistakes are inevitable.

But on the whole, Viet Nam is being better reported and more accurately reported, with fewer restrictions, than any war in our history, at a great price in blood and money.

What, then, is the difficulty?

It is the war itself, confusing and the most controversial in American history.

First there is the fighting. There are no measuring rods that a correspondent can use to show who's winning and losing each day. No towns are captured, occupied and put behind the lines.

There is no front, few large battles by the standards of every other war. Small units strike at the Viet Cong, who strike back from ambush. U.S. forces claim a victory and the Viet Cong mortar the Saigon air base and blow up a hotel in the middle of town to dispute the claim.

ALL THESE imponderables leave huge gaps for claims of any kind by the South or North Vietnamese, by hawks or doves, by the government, or by those against the war.

The advocates of the war in Viet Nam like to choose the best of the reports as the only "truth"; the "doves" the worst.

The correspondents as a whole try to report both, and incur the wrath of both hawks and doves.

But the military action, confusing as it is, comes through with startling clarity compared to the political situation.

The government would like the news from Saigon presented favorably in black and white.

The reader would like a clear, simple explanation of who's winning and what he, as a citizen, is paying for in blood and taxes.

But South Viet Nam is neither black nor white, nor clear nor simple. At best it is different shades of gray, at worst a political and military enigma.

And when the reporter reports the confusion accurately he satisfies neither reader nor government, but that's his job.

There is an Orwellian "1984" concept both among some government officials and some segment of the public that if the reporter just reported the good news, somehow things would be better. This is sometimes equated with patriotism by its more extreme advocates.

But this is not how this democracy functions. Nor could it and still remain a democarcy.

JUDGE LEARNED HAND, in an antitrust decision years ago against the Associated Press, spoke eloquently of the function of the press. His words apply today.

He said:

"The newspaper industry . . . serves one of the most vital of all general interests; the dissemination of news from as many different sources and with as many facts and colors as is possible. That interest is closely akin to, if indeed it is not the same, as the interest protected by the First Amendment: it presupposes that right conclusions are more likely to be gathered out of a multitude of tongues than through any kind of authoritative selection.

"To many this is, and always will be, folly; but we have staked upon it our all."

Viet Labor Honors U.S. Flag

By Victor Riesel

Some U.S. peace demonstrators have burned the American flag and some have dragged it through gutters while holding high the Viet Cong Communist banners. But there are those—of the working class, if you please—who hold high the American flag and proudly parade with it through Saigon streets.

Victor Riesel

Symbol of the flag burners here frequently is the charred draft card. There among the flag bearers, it is the water buffalo — long horned sign of the Confederation of Vietnamese Workers (CVT) — 300,000 strong. They carried the U. S. standard alongside the colors of their own nation on May 1st, their own Labor Day. They held it not as stooges, but as a symbol of their hopes. They did not burn or spurn it. Instead — and it is time this was reported in our own land — the CVT parade signs said:

"Welcome the international cooperation of labor movements in free and democratic countires for labor promotion and social progress in Viet Nam."

America's flag was carried by members of the CVT's Farm Workers Union — whose peasants daily defy the knives, the plastic bombs, the Viet Cong's whispered threats that "you're dead men if you work for the Americans."

THERE WERE NO MASKS on the daring faces of the free farm workers. They paraded openly and rather proudly.

Leader of the CVT is the 58-year-old Tran Quoc Buu, who, though a Buddhist, is a vice president of the Confederation of Christian Trade Unions, headquartered in Brussels.

Though predominately Buddhist, the CVT has retained its international affiliation. But it works not for the West nor for the East.

Buu fights for his people and the freedom of his land. Recently when the rebellious Buddhist Federation leaders came to him — with not very subtle pressures — and urged him to help them paralyze South Viet Nam with a general strike, he refused. Without him, the Buddhists failed.

This was not the first time he helped save what there is of a non-Communist government in Saigon.

Not too long ago, during the days of Maxwell Taylor there, the Buddhists came to Buu and demanded he throw the CVT forces into street demonstrations with them.

He refused.

He spurned them because their demonstrations were political.

Then came the Catholic groups. Again he turned away the pressures and for the same reason.

Then he announced that he would take his followers into the streets, not as a political upheaval but as a sign of economic protest.

When Gen. Taylor heard this he phoned Mr. Buu. The general, then ambassador, remonstrated. He told Buu that going into the streets at such a moment might topple the regime.

But Mr. Buu held his lines. Not to go into the streets when his grievances were legitimate would make him out to be a puppet of Saigon and Washington. He turned Gen. Taylor down, too.

THE LABOR MEN marched — as labor men do throughout the free world.

It should be marked by those who cry out against the alleged totality of Saigon's government that there have been more strikes in South Viet Nam in the past few years than in all the lands behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains.

There is freedom.

Reports now on my desk from recently returned visitors — and from Ted Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, who now is back on the docks of Saigon — disclose that President Buu and his people have struck the waterfront, textile mills and other plants. They have threatened to strike utilities.

This comes of doing what comes naturally in lands where the right to strike is the privilege of free men.

Mr. Buu's walkouts were negotiated and settled. His are not political stoppages. If they were, he could cripple the work Ted Gleason now is directing in the unclogging of the ports. Mr. Buu could halt railroads, darken streets, cut off power and cripple agricultural work.

KNOWING MR. BUU as some of us do, he would not do that to the land and the people he loves, and for whom he has fought the French and for whom he has suffered in rotting cells and through many hours of torture.

The strike threats, the efforts to stall the billion-dollar construction of docks, hospitals, 10,000 - foot runways, concrete warehouses and vast military installations come from mushrooming Viet Cong strike committees.

These are the terror squads which frighten 1,000 at a time from our burgeoning bases.

Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Offices of the old-age pension bureau maintained at East Liverpool since the legislation became effective were transferred to the courthouse at Lisbon.

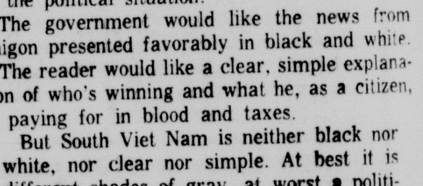
Miss Lucille Richmond, instructor at MacDonald School in Wellsville, accepted a teaching position in Toronto, her home town.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — James Nicholas Jameson, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Jameson of East Liverpool, was graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

Veterans of Newell formed Amvet Post 10 and named Ray Boughner as commander.

"Butch" Wucherer was re - elected president of the East Liverpool Bowling Association.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Craig family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Burris of Shippingport.



EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Once again 84 young people will be able either to continue or start a college education thanks to the Citizens Scholarship Foundation.

Every parent whose young person received one or more of the scholarships should say a great loud "Thank you" to those who made the funds available and to Joe Coons and his staff of co-workers. And thank God for the helping hand.

Victor Riesel

Symbol of the flag burners here frequently is the charred draft card. There among the flag bearers, it is the water buffalo — long horned sign of the Confederation of Vietnamese Workers (CVT) — 300,000 strong. They carried the U. S. standard alongside the colors of their own nation on May 1st, their own Labor Day. They held it not as stooges, but as a symbol of their hopes. They did not burn or spurn it. Instead — and it is time this was reported in our own land — the CVT parade signs said:

"Welcome the international cooperation of labor movements in free and democratic countires for labor promotion and social progress in Viet Nam."

America's flag was carried by members of the CVT's Farm Workers Union — whose peasants daily defy the knives, the plastic bombs, the Viet Cong's whispered threats that "you're dead men if you work for the Americans."

THERE WERE NO MASKS on the daring faces of the free farm workers. They paraded openly and rather proudly.

Leader of the CVT is the 58-year-old Tran Quoc Buu, who, though a Buddhist, is a vice president of the Confederation of Christian Trade Unions, headquartered in Brussels.

Though predominately Buddhist, the CVT has retained its international affiliation. But it works not for the West nor for the East.

Buu fights for his people and the freedom of his land. Recently when the rebellious Buddhist Federation leaders came to him — with not very subtle pressures — and urged him to help them paralyze South Viet Nam with a general strike, he refused. Without him, the Buddhists failed.

This was not the first time he helped save what there is of a non-Communist government in Saigon.

Not too long ago, during the days of Maxwell Taylor there, the Buddhists came to Buu and demanded he throw the CVT forces into street demonstrations with them.

He refused.

He spurned them because their demonstrations were political.

Then came the Catholic groups. Again he turned away the pressures and for the same reason.

Then he announced that he would take his followers into the streets, not as a political upheaval but as a sign of economic protest.

When Gen. Taylor heard this he phoned Mr. Buu. The general, then ambassador, remonstrated. He told Buu that going into the streets at such a moment might topple the regime.

But Mr. Buu held his lines. Not to go into the streets when his grievances were legitimate would make him out to be a puppet of Saigon and Washington. He turned Gen. Taylor down, too.

THE LABOR MEN marched — as labor men do throughout the free world.

It should be marked by those who cry out against the alleged totality of Saigon's government that there have been more strikes in South Viet Nam in the past few years than in all the lands behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains.

There is freedom.

Reports now on my desk from recently returned visitors — and from Ted Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, who now is back on the docks of Saigon — disclose that President Buu and his people have struck the waterfront, textile mills and other plants. They have threatened to strike utilities.

This comes of doing what comes naturally in lands where the right to strike is the privilege of free men.

Mr. Buu's walkouts were negotiated and settled. His are not political stoppages. If they were, he could cripple the work Ted Gleason now is directing in the unclogging of the ports. Mr. Buu could halt railroads, darken streets, cut off power and cripple agricultural work.

KNOWING MR. BUU as some of us do, he would not do that to the land and the people he loves, and for whom he has fought the French and for whom he has suffered in rotting cells and through many hours of torture.

The strike threats, the efforts to stall the billion-dollar construction of docks, hospitals, 10,000 - foot runways, concrete warehouses and vast military installations come from mushrooming Viet Cong strike committees.

These are the terror squads which frighten 1,000 at a time from our burgeoning bases.

Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Offices of the old-age pension bureau maintained at East Liverpool since the legislation became effective were transferred to the courthouse at Lisbon.

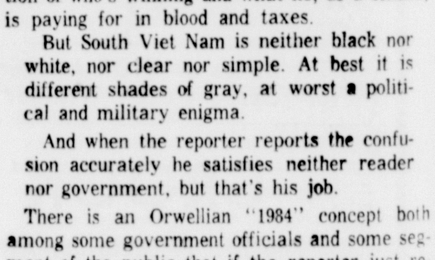
Miss Lucille Richmond, instructor at MacDonald School in Wellsville, accepted a teaching position in Toronto, her home town.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — James Nicholas Jameson, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Jameson of East Liverpool, was graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

Veterans of Newell formed Amvet Post 10 and named Ray Boughner as commander.

"Butch" Wucherer was re - elected president of the East Liverpool Bowling Association.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Craig family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Burris of Shippingport.



EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Once again 84 young people will be able either to continue or start a college education thanks to the Citizens Scholarship Foundation.

Every parent whose young person received one or more of the scholarships should say a great loud "Thank you" to those who made the funds available and to Joe Coons and his staff of co-workers. And thank God for the helping hand.

Woman Says Guilty, Gets Term In Slaying

—Mrs. James Lou Pitts, 47, of Wintersville pleaded guilty Saturday at her murder trial to a reduced charge of manslaughter and was sentenced to 1-20 years in the Ohio State Women's Reformatory at Marysville.

She had been charged with first-degree murder in the shooting death of George Raymond Carney, 30, last Jan. 24. Carney was also from Wintersville, and the shooting occurred in Steubenville.

Pledges In Sale Of Israel's Bonds Total $33,750 During City Banquet

Pledges totaling $33,750 were received Sunday night at the Beth Shalom Congregation for the Israel bond drive as the climax to a banquet which featured noted author Meyer Levin as principal speaker.

Levin, writer of numerous novels including "The Stronghold," published last fall, and the best-seller "Compulsion," discussed "The Development of Israel" in accentuating the need for continued support of the annual bond program.

It was his unhappy duty, he recalled, to be among the first to report on the infamous concentration camps in Europe immediately following the end of World War II, in which he served as a news correspondent.

"But now that we have achievement stories rather than disaster stories, some people think there is no problem any more, and they ask, 'Why must we have fund raising now?'" Levin said.

He pointed out that many potential immigrants need assistance to travel to the young nation and to become established.

—:—

IN ADDITION, the bond money finds continued use in development projects, including water and land transportation systems, oil pipelines, and seaport facilities, he said.

The funds are not appropriated for military uses, the revenues for which are derived from internal sources, he emphasized.

Levin traced the lives of families and individual personalities which figured prominently in the development of Israel in the last 80 years.

"The settlement of the Jews in Palestine is the romantic story of our time," he remarked.

He drew comparisons between the founding of the nation and the early colonization of the United States, describing how Israel has grown from a backward country into an advanced nation which now sends technicians, engineers and construction experts to underdeveloped lands.

A principal difficulty in enlisting outside support for Israel is the fear of contributors of being accused of dual loyalty, he said.

However, assistance granted to Israel is no different than assistance extended to other emerging nations in the world, he added.

—:—

HE DECLARED that Israel has been accused falsely of being ultra-nationalistic.

"Israelis tend to have a world political view, and desire to be friendly and cooperative with other countries; Israel is not a secret Jewish world, or a conspiracy," he said.

A phenomenon of the growing country, Levin noted, is the existence of several internally competing economic systems.

"Some industries are purely capitalistic, some government-sponsored, and others supported by labor unions."

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Alexander Fisher, toastmaster and Tri-State community relations chairman for State of Israel Bonds.

Guests of honor were Robert E. Boyce, president of the First National Bank; Gordon E. Starkey, president of the Potters Bank & Trust Co.; Charles L. Finley, assistant vice president of the First National Bank of Midland; E. L. Wheatley, president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, and Joseph D'Alesio, president of United Steelworkers Local 1212 at Midland, who was unable to attend.

The honored guests were presented testimonial scrolls in appreciation of their "helping to speed Israel's economic development by means of the mobilization of investment capital through the State of Israel bond drive".

Mike Turk and Harry Barlow, co-chairmen of the sponsoring East Liverpool - Midland Israel Bond Committee, spoke briefly.

Invocation and benediction were given by Rabbi Sydney L. Hoffman of the Beth Shalom Congregation.

Wellsville Girl Receives Degree

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The Worcester Redevelopment Authority has named a Boston-based firm, Worcester Center Associates, as developer for a $45-million business and commercial complex in downtown Worcester.

The complex will include a hotel, three office towers, two department stores, parking for 4,000 cars, a rooftop heliport, a bus station, an enclosed mall, a fine arts theater, restaurants, banks, a computer center, and various shops and stores.

Symphony OK's Pact

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Members of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra accepted a new contract Saturday which raises their annual wage from $4,975 for a 30-week season to $8,800 for a 44-week season in 1968-69.

A Special Gift

NEW YORK (AP) — The present for the Grace Christian Day School on the 10th anniversary of its founding was a new paint job, provided by a corps of 35 members of the Grace Lutheran Church, school faculty and Parent - Teacher League. The do - it - yourself volunteers completed the job in time for a reception held as part of the anniversary observance.

Development Pressed For Athens Area

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If the Margaret Creek Watershed at Albany in Athens County isn't developed as planned, says the Ohio director of Appalachia programs, it "could well augar social unrest" at Athens and Ohio University.

Director Alberg G. Giles made the comment in reporting today he has requested $88,532 in federal funds to supplement the cost of the flood prevention project.

Giles attached "vital importance" to the watershed project for which a federal grant of $682,804 has already been approved and for which a local conservancy district is providing $227,296 of the $998,632 total cost.

He said "the flood prevention edifices are expected to slash average annual water damage to Ohio University's grounds and buildings, and to adjacent highways by 79 per cent, and to railroads by 67 per cent."

Giles added that "of urgent need would be the creation of recreational endeavors such as camping, swimming, fishing, boating, picnicking and others to the community-at-large to meet the needs of the ever-growing student body of Ohio University."

He termed present facilities inadequate and said the expected increase in enrollment from the current 12,000 to about 20,000 by 1970 "could well augur social unrest should facilities not be provided for the students and the citizenry."

He noted the project would be immediately adjacent to the Appalachian Developmental Highway and near two U. S. highways, a factor which should draw tourists to bolster the area's economy if the recreation facilities are there.

Giles also visualized the Margaret Creek project as reducing erosion, stimulating truck farming and providing jobs for "high school graduates who . . . might be forced to migrate to other areas."

Everybody Thanked

NEWPORT, Tenn. (AP) — The Newport newspaper recently carried an advertisement from General Sessions Court Judge Benton Giles, who had been defeated on a Republican primary election. He thanked those who had voted for him. Immediately below his ad was another—by his wife, thanking those who did not vote for her husband. She said that, with him out of politics, she might be able to get him to go to church.

The complex will include a hotel, three office towers, two department stores, parking for 4,000 cars, a rooftop heliport, a bus station, an enclosed mall, a fine arts theater, restaurants, banks, a computer center, and various shops and stores.

Symphony OK's Pact

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Members of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra accepted a new contract Saturday which raises their annual wage from $4,975 for a 30-week season to $8,800 for a 44-week season in 1968-69.

A Special Gift

NEW YORK (AP) — The present for the Grace Christian Day School on the 10th anniversary of its founding was a new paint job, provided by a corps of 35 members of the Grace Lutheran Church, school faculty and Parent - Teacher League. The do - it - yourself volunteers completed the job in time for a reception held as part of the anniversary observance.

Development Pressed For Athens Area

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If the Margaret Creek Watershed at Albany in Athens County isn't developed as planned, says the Ohio director of Appalachia programs, it "could well augar social unrest" at Athens and Ohio University.

Director Alberg G. Giles made the comment in reporting today he has requested $88,532 in federal funds to supplement the cost of the flood prevention project.

Giles attached "vital importance" to the watershed project for which a federal grant of $682,804 has already been approved and for which a local conservancy district is providing $227,296 of the $998,632 total cost.

He said "the flood prevention edifices are expected to slash average annual water damage to Ohio University's grounds and buildings, and to adjacent highways by 79 per cent, and to railroads by 67 per cent."

Giles added that "of urgent need would be the creation of recreational endeavors such as camping, swimming, fishing, boating, picnicking and others to the community-at-large to meet the needs of the ever-growing student body of Ohio University."

He termed present facilities inadequate and said the expected increase in enrollment from the current 12,000 to about 20,000 by 1970 "could well augur social unrest should facilities not be provided for the students and the citizenry."

He noted the project would be immediately adjacent to the Appalachian Developmental Highway and near two U. S. highways, a factor which should draw tourists to bolster the area's economy if the recreation facilities are there.

Giles also visualized the Margaret Creek project as reducing erosion, stimulating truck farming and providing jobs for "high school graduates who . . . might be forced to migrate to other areas."

Everybody Thanked

NEWPORT, Tenn. (AP) — The Newport newspaper recently carried an advertisement from General Sessions Court Judge Benton Giles, who had been defeated on a Republican primary election. He thanked those who had voted for him. Immediately below his ad was another—by his wife, thanking those who did not vote for her husband. She said that, with him out of politics, she might be able to get him to go to church.

Two-Day 'Opening' Set For Firm's Branch Unit

Plans have been completed for the official opening of the new branch office of the Potters Savings and Loan Co. in the St. Clair shopping plaza at Calcutta.

A two-day "grand opening" will be held from 11 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. on June 24 and June 25, Alwyn C. Purinton Jr., president - secretary of the savings and loan company, said.

POTTERS Savings selected the location on State Route 170, he explained, "on the basis of extensive studies showing present and potential growth for the surrounding area in Columbiana County."

"Currently, there are 3,448 households in the area — St. Clair and Liverpool Townships— and the growth potential is estimated at 6,504 households by 1975. The population of this section of the county also is expected to increase from present 12,407 to 22,063 by 1975.

"This section of the county has jumped ahead commercially and in population in recent years. Projections are very bright, and broader financial services will be needed to adequately fulfill people's needs."

All of the company's financial services will be in operation during the special hours of the grand opening. These include savings accounts, Christmas savings clubs, vacation savings clubs, home loan counseling, home improvement loans, real estate mortgages and drive-in windows. Regular office hours will be Tuesday-Saturday, 11 a.m. to 6:30 p. m.

THROUGHOUT the grand opening, the plaza office staff will welcome the public, explain the facilities and provide tours of the building. Free refreshments will be available.

"Overall, the healthy economic characteristics, easy accessibility and growth potential speak well for the future of the area," Purinton added. "We're happy to bring Potters Savings and Loan services closer to residents, business and industries in an area which has such a bright future."

This is the third office to be opened by Potters Savings. It operates an annex office in downtown East Liverpool, opposite the main offices of the company.

Boys Nabbed In Burglaries At City Stores

Two city teen - agers were nabbed by alert policemen early this morning shortly after burglarizing an electronics store and a lumber firm in the downtown area.

A 16-year-old was taken to detention quarters at the County Jail by Juvenile Officer James Miller to await arraignment Tuesday in Juvenile Court on charges of breaking and entering. He now is on probation in another juvenile case.

His 15-year-old companion has been released in custody of his parents and also will be ordered into court, Miller said.

The youths were arrested by Patrolmen D. K. Mumaw and D. M. Garvey about 1 a. m. after Officers Mumaw spotted the youths standing outside United Electronics, Inc., 646 St. Clair Ave., with a quantity of merchandise.

They also admitted breaking into Spagnol Cash & Carry Lumber Co., 740 Dresden Ave., earlier this morning.

Spotting Officer Mumaw standing near the Horn Switch and Patrolman Garvey driving into a nearby used car lot. The pair attempted to hide in some brush but were found quickly.

From United Electronics, the youths had taken a transistor tape recorder, a crystal microphone, three dynamic microphones, a transistor phonograph and a flashlight the officers said.

The youths also confessed stealing 21 cents, a screwdriver and tin snips from Spagnols after entering the firm through a broken rear window between 12:15 and 1 a.m.

Police said the tin snips apparently had been used to cut a protective wire screen over a window at United Electronics owned by Ronald Keys of Glenmoor. They then broke the 36-x-48-inch window and removed one of several steel bars inside the frame to crawl into the building.

Fire

He termed it a "stubborn blaze" that was difficult to quell because of the false ceilings and other features used in construction of this type dwelling.

West Point firemen also were summoned and the investigation was turned over to them when they arrived as the home is located in their territory.

The cause of the blaze in the four-year old home has not been determined. Firemen said all the furnishings were lost.

Fifteen men from the Wellsville department answered the alarm with a pumper truck and emergency truck. West Point sent several men and three trucks.

Driver Given Jail Sentence

A Canton motorist was fined and jailed this morning in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to a drunk driving charge filed by police after a mishap Saturday morning in which he hit the same car twice.

Frank E. Beatty, 50, formerly of Washington, Pa., was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who also suspended his driver's license for 90 days.

Beatty was cited after his auto rammed the rear of an auto operated by Doris Bettis of Salineville R. D. 1. She was X-rayed at Osteopathic Hospital and released.

The investigating officer, Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr., said he was told the woman had halted for the traffic light at the intersection when Beatty hit her car from the rear.

The Canton motorist then backed up and came forward and hit her car the second time, the officer reported. He was driving a car owned by Wanda V. Hixenbaugh of Washington, Pa., the report showed.

John Mathers, 1083 Mapletree St., and Donald Dixon, 102 Pink Alley, were witnesses to the mishap, police said.

Miss Ruby Wilson

Services and burial will be held in Ironton this afternoon for Miss Ruby Alberta Wilson of 1023½ Lisbon St., Wellsville, who died Friday at the Massillon State Hospital. She had been ill since December.

She was born in Rome, Ohio, Nov. 30, 1896. She lived in Wellsville for a number of years.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Garnet Hickman of Wilberforce, and a niece.

Two-Day 'Opening' Set For Firm's Branch Unit

Plans have been completed for the official opening of the new branch office of the Potters Savings and Loan Co. in the St. Clair shopping plaza at Calcutta.

A two-day "grand opening" will be held from 11 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. on June 24 and June 25, Alwyn C. Purinton Jr., president - secretary of the savings and loan company, said.

POTTERS Savings selected the location on State Route 170, he explained, "on the basis of extensive studies showing present and potential growth for the surrounding area in Columbiana County."

"Currently, there are 3,448 households in the area — St. Clair and Liverpool Townships— and the growth potential is estimated at 6,504 households by 1975. The population of this section of the county also is expected to increase from present 12,407 to 22,063 by 1975.

"This section of the county has jumped ahead commercially and in population in recent years. Projections are very bright, and broader financial services will be needed to adequately fulfill people's needs."

All of the company's financial services will be in operation during the special hours of the grand opening. These include savings accounts, Christmas savings clubs, vacation savings clubs, home loan counseling, home improvement loans, real estate mortgages and drive-in windows. Regular office hours will be Tuesday-Saturday, 11 a.m. to 6:30 p. m.

THROUGHOUT the grand opening, the plaza office staff will welcome the public, explain the facilities and provide tours of the building. Free refreshments will be available.

"Overall, the healthy economic characteristics, easy accessibility and growth potential speak well for the future of the area," Purinton added. "We're happy to bring Potters Savings and Loan services closer to residents, business and industries in an area which has such a bright future."

This is the third office to be opened by Potters Savings. It operates an annex office in downtown East Liverpool, opposite the main offices of the company.

Boys Nabbed In Burglaries At City Stores

Two city teen - agers were nabbed by alert policemen early this morning shortly after burglarizing an electronics store and a lumber firm in the downtown area.

A 16-year-old was taken to detention quarters at the County Jail by Juvenile Officer James Miller to await arraignment Tuesday in Juvenile Court on charges of breaking and entering. He now is on probation in another juvenile case.

His 15-year-old companion has been released in custody of his parents and also will be ordered into court, Miller said.

The youths were arrested by Patrolmen D. K. Mumaw and D. M. Garvey about 1 a. m. after Officers Mumaw spotted the youths standing outside United Electronics, Inc., 646 St. Clair Ave., with a quantity of merchandise.

They also admitted breaking into Spagnol Cash & Carry Lumber Co., 740 Dresden Ave., earlier this morning.

Spotting Officer Mumaw standing near the Horn Switch and Patrolman Garvey driving into a nearby used car lot. The pair attempted to hide in some brush but were found quickly.

From United Electronics, the youths had taken a transistor tape recorder, a crystal microphone, three dynamic microphones, a transistor phonograph and a flashlight the officers said.

The youths also confessed stealing 21 cents, a screwdriver and tin snips from Spagnols after entering the firm through a broken rear window between 12:15 and 1 a.m.

Police said the tin snips apparently had been used to cut a protective wire screen over a window at United Electronics owned by Ronald Keys of Glenmoor. They then broke the 36-x-48-inch window and removed one of several steel bars inside the frame to crawl into the building.

Fire

He termed it a "stubborn blaze" that was difficult to quell because of the false ceilings and other features used in construction of this type dwelling.

West Point firemen also were summoned and the investigation was turned over to them when they arrived as the home is located in their territory.

The cause of the blaze in the four-year old home has not been determined. Firemen said all the furnishings were lost.

Fifteen men from the Wellsville department answered the alarm with a pumper truck and emergency truck. West Point sent several men and three trucks.

Driver Given Jail Sentence

A Canton motorist was fined and jailed this morning in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to a drunk driving charge filed by police after a mishap Saturday morning in which he hit the same car twice.

Frank E. Beatty, 50, formerly of Washington, Pa., was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who also suspended his driver's license for 90 days.

Beatty was cited after his auto rammed the rear of an auto operated by Doris Bettis of Salineville R. D. 1. She was X-rayed at Osteopathic Hospital and released.

The investigating officer, Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr., said he was told the woman had halted for the traffic light at the intersection when Beatty hit her car from the rear.

The Canton motorist then backed up and came forward and hit her car the second time, the officer reported. He was driving a car owned by Wanda V. Hixenbaugh of Washington, Pa., the report showed.

John Mathers, 1083 Mapletree St., and Donald Dixon, 102 Pink Alley, were witnesses to the mishap, police said.

Given in marriage by her brother, Paul George Aaron, the bride wore a gown of imported organza over bridal taffeta. The molded bodice featured a scoop neckline and Kabuki sleeves. Motifs of imported Alencon lace appliques, accented with pearls, enhanced the waistline and sleeves.

The slipper - length, rounded skirt, marked with a back bow, was styled with a removable, chapel-length train. Her bouffant veil of illusion was attached to a headpiece formed of a Dior bow and seed - pearl edged rose. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white orchids, ivy and stephanotis.

Miss Joann Powell, maid of honor, wore a floor - length pink gown designed with an A-line skirt and Kabuki sleeves. Her headpiece was a pillbox of fresh flowers. She carried a Colonial arrangement of white flowers.

Kenneth J. Floding of Youngstown, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Ushers were Jack White of East Liverpool and Ronald Derglin of Akron.

A reception for 200 followed in the social rooms.

The bride attended Kent State and Youngstown universities and is employed in the treasury department of the Sharon Steel Corp.

The bridegroom attends Youngstown University, where he is majoring in public administration. He is employed by the Mahoning County Planning Commission.

The newlyweds will reside in Youngstown.

Mrs. Gandhi Devalues Rupee In India Move

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi devalued the Indian rupee 36.5 per cent Sunday night as part of her campaign to invigorate the nation's faltering economy. One American dollar will now purchase 7.5 rupees instead of 4.76.

The official value is still more than the rupee's value on unofficial markets. The dollar recently has brought 12 rupees on New Delhi's black market and in other Asian capitals.

YEAR OF THE PEARL

Although fashions in jewelry may come and go, two gems are distinctive in their perennal acceptance among women. These are of course, the diamond, and especially, the pearl. Stylists have often recommended pearls as being correct at any hour of the day, and with practically every type of attire other than active sportswear. The single strand of pearls with a sweater is a classic with every age group, and pearls are equally at home with formal evening attire. Queen Elizabeth of England for example, is noted for her pearls worn with very formal court gowns.

Natural pearls, which are truly "accidents of nature" within the body of the oyster, are both rare and extremely costly in the jewelry market today. Small natural "seed" pearls are seen in antique jewelry, and there are natural freshwater pearls available from time to time. These, however, are the somewhat baroque or irregularly shaped pearls rather than the round, smooth variety found in cultured pearls of good quality. Cultured pearls are true products of the oyster, but man-initiated. Artificial or simulated pearls never see an an oyster.

Mabe pearls, a large "blister" shape that is flat on one side, are being developed by the Japanese on pearls farms in Okinawa. No doubt you have seen these set in large rings or occasionally, as pendants. The culturing of pearls is one of the great advances man has made in the jewelry industry . . . and in this century, too. When buying cultured pearls of any type, do come in and see our selection first and let us explain all the nuances of pearl value to you.

Newell Residents Are Wed In Ceremonies At Church

Miss Carolyn Sue Robinson and Joseph Edwin Hall II were united in marriage the afternoon of May 28 at 2:30 o'clock in the First Methodist Church of Newell.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Leona Robinson of 307 Grant St., Newell, and the late Raymond C. Robinson. Her husband is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Hall of 6th St., Newell.

The Rev. Willis F. Summers officiated for the double - ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms, ferns and candelabra. Mrs. Colleen Addis presented a half-hour recital of organ music. Mrs. Marilyn Orr sang "O Promise Me" and "Because."

GIVEN IN marriage by her brother-in-law, Dave Smith, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scoop neckline and long, pointed sleeves. The bell-shaped skirt was accented with rose appliques and fell into a chapel train.

Her fingertip - length veil of silk illusion was held in place by a pearl crown. She carried gardenias. In observing the traditions, she had a six-pence in her shoe, the gift of Mrs. E. C. Wright, grandmother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Donna Smith, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Vickie Curry, Miss Susan Miller and Miss Ruth McCabe. Miss Cindy Mercer, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

They appeared in floor-length gowns of egg shell blue fashioned with brief sleeves and a bow at the waistline. Their headpieces were matching cabbage roses. They carried snowball - shaped bouquets of white carnations and pink roses.

Terri Mercer, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a blue dotted Swiss organza dress. She carried a basket of pink rose petals. Jackie Graham, cousin of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

Fred Ferell served as best man. Ushers were Rom Bellisario of Weirton, Bill Moffitt of Pittsburgh and James Graham, cousin of the bridegroom.

MRS. JOSEPH HALL

Will Reside In Morgantown.

The mother of the bride chose a poudre blue dress and the bridegroom's mother a pink ensemble. Matching accessories and corsages of white rosebuds complemented their attire.

A RECEPTION for 250 followed at the Newell American Legion Home under the supervision of Mrs. Lois Graham. The buffet table was centered with a three-tier cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Aides were Miss Mary Jane Graham, Miss Elizabeth Hupp, Mrs. JoAnn Martin, Mrs. Lois Murphy and Mrs. Louise Staley.

Guests were from Pittsburgh, Akron, Weirton and Morgantown.

For her honeymoon trip to Florida, the bride wore a three-piece blue suit with Navy blue accessories.

The newlyweds are graduates of Wells High School in Newell and will reside in Morgantown.

The bride formerly was employed as secretary at Wells Junior High School. Her husband is a student at West Virginia University, where he is majoring in aerospace engineering.

Couple Wed At Struthers Honeymooning In Florida

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ray Floding are honeymooning in Florida following their marriage Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Church of Christ at Struthers, with the Rev. William Hopkins officiating.

The bride was Miss Patricia Ann Aaron, daughter of Mrs. Paul C. Aaron of Brookfield and the late Mr. Aaron. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Charles Floding of Youngstown and the late Mr. Floding.

Given in marriage by her brother, Paul George Aaron, the bride wore a gown of imported organza over bridal taffeta. The molded bodice featured a scoop neckline and Kabuki sleeves. Motifs of imported Alencon lace appliques, accented with pearls, enhanced the waistline and sleeves.

The slipper - length, rounded skirt, marked with a back bow, was styled with a removable, chapel-length train. Her bouffant veil of illusion was attached to a headpiece formed of a Dior bow and seed - pearl edged rose. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white orchids, ivy and stephanotis.

Miss Joann Powell, maid of honor, wore a floor - length pink gown designed with an A-line skirt and Kabuki sleeves. Her headpiece was a pillbox of fresh flowers. She carried a Colonial arrangement of white flowers.

Kenneth J. Floding of Youngstown, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Ushers were Jack White of East Liverpool and Ronald Derglin of Akron.

A reception for 200 followed in the social rooms.

The bride attended Kent State and Youngstown universities and is employed in the treasury department of the Sharon Steel Corp.

The bridegroom attends Youngstown University, where he is majoring in public administration. He is employed by the Mahoning County Planning Commission.

The newlyweds will reside in Youngstown.

Mrs. Gandhi Devalues Rupee In India Move

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi devalued the Indian rupee 36.5 per cent Sunday night as part of her campaign to invigorate the nation's faltering economy. One American dollar will now purchase 7.5 rupees instead of 4.76.

The official value is still more than the rupee's value on unofficial markets. The dollar recently has brought 12 rupees on New Delhi's black market and in other Asian capitals.

Gem-Wise
Jewelry fashions, facts, fictions

YEAR OF THE PEARL

Although fashions in jewelry may come and go, two gems are distinctive in their perennal acceptance among women. These are of course, the diamond, and especially, the pearl. Stylists have often recommended pearls as being correct at any hour of the day, and with practically every type of attire other than active sportswear. The single strand of pearls with a sweater is a classic with every age group, and pearls are equally at home with formal evening attire. Queen Elizabeth of England for example, is noted for her pearls worn with very formal court gowns.

Natural pearls, which are truly "accidents of nature" within the body of the oyster, are both rare and extremely costly in the jewelry market today. Small natural "seed" pearls are seen in antique jewelry, and there are natural freshwater pearls available from time to time. These, however, are the somewhat baroque or irregularly shaped pearls rather than the round, smooth variety found in cultured pearls of good quality. Cultured pearls are true products of the oyster, but man-initiated. Artificial or simulated pearls never see an an oyster.

Mabe pearls, a large "blister" shape that is flat on one side, are being developed by the Japanese on pearls farms in Okinawa. No doubt you have seen these set in large rings or occasionally, as pendants. The culturing of pearls is one of the great advances man has made in the jewelry industry . . . and in this century, too. When buying cultured pearls of any type, do come in and see our selection first and let us explain all the nuances of pearl value to you.

Miss Vicki Deshler, junior past honored queen, was installing officer and clothed Miss McDowell with a long, royal purple velvet cloak and crown of jewels, emblematic of her leadership and symbol of her position.

THE EAST was decorated with pink apple blossom trees and ferns. The centerpiece arrangements of lavender and purple flowers, placed in a basket, was a memorial in honor of Miss McDowell's grandmother, the late Mrs. Jennie Carpenter. Other highlights were small baskets filled with orchid and purple pansies, a cornucopia and a bouquet of baby breath.

Miss McDowell wore a floor-length sheath of red and white brocade. She chose "Jesus Our Beloved Savior" as her motto; the altar and Bible as the symbol and purple and white, for power, dignity and purity, for the colors. They were exemplified on the covers of the program booklets, which featured an original poem, "It Makes a Difference," by Chleo Deshler Goodman.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold R. McDowell of Michigan Ave., parents of the honored queen, were introduced, along with her brother, Arnold R. McDowell Jr. She received a gavel as a birthday anniversary gift from her parents, along with the jewel of her office from Miss Deshler, and a gift from Mrs. Genevieve Hoffman, guardian.

Mrs. McDowell introduced the Rev. Paul George, pastor of the Boyce Methodist Church, who gave the charge to the newly-installed officers. He advised the girls to "honor the Lord but help other girls on the way."

Miss Mary Compa, installing soloist, sang "Savior Of My Soul." Miss Barbara Eason was installing musician.

Other installing officers from the local Bethel assisting Miss Deshler were Kay Eaton, guide; Kathy Blackburn, marshal, and Carolee Turner, senior custodian.

ASSISTING from the Lisbon Bethel 48 were Jane McBride, chaplain; Dawn Richardson, recorder, and Jennifer Mason, junior custodian.

Miss Badger and Miss Doland, princesses, were robed with purple velvet capes and received the jeweled crowns, symbolic of their officers.

Welcoming the newly - installed officers were Mrs. Hoffman, Bethel guardian, and John E. Hall, associate grand guardian. Sam Blackburn, worshipful master of Riddle Lodge, was escorted to the platform.

Preceding the installation was the "Rose Ceremony" honoring the retiring honored queen, Miss Deshler, and her officers. Miss Deshler received the past honored queen's jewel. Following the ritual of signing her name in the Bible, she presented her officers with red rosebuds, which they used to form an arch for her retirement.

Members of Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay, served as escorts and gave the closing prayer. The formation of the cross concluded the ceremony as the group sang "Nearer My God To Thee."

Announcement was made of the Bethel Guardian Council which includes in addition to Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Arlene Blackburn, secretary; Mrs. McDowell, treasurer, and Mrs. Hazel Neiser, directress of music.

THE ASSOCIATE council is comprised of Mrs. Mildred Hopper, custodian of paraphernalia; Mrs. Clara Young, promoter of sociability; Blackburn, promoter of finance; Mrs. Helen Krepps, promoter of hospitality, and Homer Hoffman, promoter of fraternal relations.

Those serving on the committees will be Mrs. Dolores Hopper and Robin Shultz, hospitality; Linda Jack and Debbie Bickerton, sociability; Lora Phillips, paraphernalia; Terry Garren and Debbie Phillips, sunshine; Nancy Doland, Diane Toland and Kathy Ferguson, decorating; Carolyn Vale, lighting; Jan Andrews, proficiency; Debbie Badger, Nancy Doland, Miss McDowell, Debbie Phillips and Linda Haney, telephone, and Melissa Francis, Cindy Hopper and Carolyn Wynn, audit.

A reception followed in the grill room, where the mantle was decorated with orchid maline and white doves. The buffet table was covered with a purple cloth and featured white tapers. On a small table, covered with satin, were party dolls dressed to match the gowns of the queen and princesses.

Miss Sandy Smith and Miss Becky McIntosh poured. Favors were miniature replicas of a white Bible, inscribed with the honored queen's name and the date of the event. The enclosed boxes held nuts.

The social committee was Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Charles Hopper Jr., Mrs. Eric Young, Mrs. John Hopper, Mrs. Richard Badger and Mrs. Blackburn.

Master Honored At Yellow Creek Grange Meeting

George Patterson, worthy master, was named "Father of the Grange" as a surprise feature of the Yellow Creek Grange meeting Thursday night. He received a floral tribute.

Another of the grange's members, Mrs. Frances Jack, also was honored with a floral tribute. She is retiring after 35 years of teaching.

Charles Morlan, deputy master, inspected the subordinate grange and Mrs. Morlan conducted inspection of the juvenile grange. The second degree and drill work was exemplified.

The theme of the lecture hour was "Spring" and "Father's Day."

The program included: Reading, "It's Later Than You Think," Mrs. Pearl Duck; reading, "This is Spring," Mrs. Isabel Patterson; piano selection, Ralph Falconer; jokes, Lawrence Mick; story, "Man to Man," Wilmer Ralston; educational theme, Mrs. Jack; story and a reading, "Father of Our Country, George Washington, I Did it With My Little Hatchet," Mrs. Betty Mick, lecturer with audience participation, and group singing.

A coverdish lunch was served 54 by the Home Economics Committee. The next meeting will be June 16. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Frank of Portage County were guests.

Cleveland Priest Dies

CLEVELAND (AP)—Solemn requiem mass will be offered Wednesday for Msgr. Edmund J. Ahern, 76, a priest for 50 years and pastor of St. Christopher Catholic Parish in Rocky River for the past 19 years. He died Sunday.

Slip an elastic hat cord through the hole in your door key. Then push the metal tips of the cord through the lining near the top of your handbag. This will end searching around in your handbag for your key. It will also prevent losing it, as the door may be unlocked without removing the key from the bag.

MISS JUNIORETTE. Beverly Jividen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Jividen of 904 Grant St., Newell, is shown being crowned Miss Juniorette of 1966 by Miss Connie Kirchner, 1965 queen, prior to the Newell firemen's parade Saturday night. Her attendants were Connie Weekley and Nancy Summers, Wells Junior High freshmen; Mary Conners, Cindy Mercer and Rhonda Roe, eighth graders, and Terry Ronan and Debbie Garner, seventh graders. The Newell Junior Women's Club sponsored the Miss Juniorette contest.

Combo Organized Here

Musicians Visit Families In City Stop During Tour

Two East Liverpool musicians who have been playing as members of a successful five-piece combo for eight years left today for a two-week engagement in Pontiac, Mich., after a stopover with their families here.

Called "Rick and the Legends," the group was organized in East Liverpool about 1958. It features Rick Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer of 955 Ohio Ave., and Jerry Nolan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nolan of Anderson Blvd., along with Rick's wife, who appears professionally as Jean Williams.

The other members of the group are Bob Booth and Buzzy Rose, both of Norfolk, Va. The group has been playing for the last two years in Norfolk, Va. It will appear on the road all summer, returning to Norfolk in time for Booth and Rose to resume their studies at Old Dominion College there.

Palmer and Nolan both are 25. Palmer plays the guitar, doubling on the harmonica, while Nolan is featured on the sax and the bass, also playing the guitar and drums.

Booth plays the guitar, Rose is the drummer and Mrs. Palmer plays the organ. She is a native of Chicago. She and Palmer were married five years ago.

The group travels in a bus converted into a mobile home, complete with running water and all the amenities. It plays folk music and other types of melodies in a varied repertoire that also includes rock and roll.

"Rick and the Legends" first appeared publicly as a teen-age combo on WOHI eight years ago. The combo has cut two records recently, including "I Wonder Why," which made the hit charts in the Virginia-North Carolina area, and "Diary of a Teen-Age Bride," which was given a big play on radio stations in the Tidewater area.

Vogel Advanced In Reserve Rank

The Department of the Army has announced the promotion of Paul Vogel of 939 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, to the grade of colonel.

Vogel enlisted in the Army at Ft. Benjamin Harrisn, Ind., as a private. He left the active Army as a captain after serving with the famed 82nd Airborne Division in Europe during World War II.

Since that time he has commanded two Reserve Infantry Battalions, and was assigned to the Maneuver Branch of the old Second Army, now First Army, at Fort George G. Meade, Md. He presently is assigned at Ft. Knox, Ky., as commandant of the XX US Army Corps Instructor Training School.

Vogel is first vice-president of the Independent Theater Owners of Ohio.

Midland Rites Draw Crowd

A large crowd attended the baccalaureate service for the Class of 1966 at Midland High School auditorium Sunday evening.

The organ prelude was by Karen Murphy. The processional, "Pomp and Circumstance," (Elgar) and the recessional, "Huldigungsmarsch" (Grieg), were played by Mrs. C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh at the organ.

The invocation and benediction were by the Rev. W. Stanton River, pastor of the Midland Methodist Church.

The class and audience joined in singing "America the Beautiful" (Ward) and "Battle Hymn of the Republic" (Steffe).

Scripture reading and prayer were by the Rev. Paul A. McClenon, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Charles McClure, pastor of the Assembly of God, spoke on "Tomorrow's Conquest."

Rev. McClure told the students that tomorrow definitely belongs to them and that they must carry on the past successes of man. He stressed that they must not only cultivate the mind and the body, but also the spirit.

The concert choir, directed by C. L. Defenbaugh, performed "Hear Our Prayer, Oh Lord," (Whelpton) "Deep River," (Arr. Ringwald) "Cherubin Song No. 7" (Bertnyansky) and "Thee We Adore," (Dubois).

THE PRICE OF PRESCRIPTIONS

One reason why people may be surprised at the price of their prescription is because it isn't a regular expense item like other (and often more expensive) items such as dinner out, auto repairs or clothes for the kids. Yet the savings afforded in prevention of hospitalization or loss of job time more than make up for the price of the prescription. Gain full benefit from your doctor's expert care by bringing your prescriptions to our registered pharmacists.

—:—

MRS. WALTON also presented certificates of appreciation to Mrs. Clarence Harrington, Mrs. Gongaware, Mrs. George Hargraves Jr., Sam Parks, The Review and WOHI.

Mrs. Robert Schlang, who served as mistress of ceremonies, presented "PUP Awards" (patient, understanding people) to Mrs. Sidney C. Porter Jr., Dan Henderson and Larry Walton.

In extending the welcome, Mrs. Schlang gave a humorous description of "the perfect Camp Fire Girl leader." Wishes of good luck were expressed for Mrs. Gongaware, who is leaving to reside in Kittanning, Pa.

Members of Mrs. Lang's Junior High Group presented a comedy routine depicting activities of the Camp Fire Girl including a project session, an overniter at Bryan Recreation Center in Dixonville, tin cookery and a hike symbolizing day camp and a service award program.

THE CAST was comprised of Sue Pallard, reader, Coleen Fitzgerald, group leader, and Cindy Stoy, Martha Rogers, Judy Harrington, Betsy Welker, Barbara Skeens and Nonny Kyle.

Background music was provided by a barbershop quartet from the Klondyke School group under the direction of Mrs. Harrington. The Grade 4 and Grade 6 girls were Sue Standley, Tina Adkins, Jeryl Kidder and Pam Stewart. Among the selections they sang was "America The Beautiful."

The tables were decorated with lace doily baskets trimmed with pink ribbons and holding orchids. Pink tapers in milk-glass holders completed the setting. Favors were orchids for the women, bags of sample items and miniature boxes of chocolates.

The covers of the program booklets featured uniformed girls for all the program levels, the Bluebird, the Camp Fire Girl, the Junior Hi and the Horizon Club.

Husbands of leaders were guests. The group repeated "The Camp Fire Grace" as the blessing.

The committee in charge of arrangements was Mrs. Dan Henderson, administrative secretary, Mrs. Joseph Prager, Mrs. Louis Tobin, Mrs. R. J. Bonistalli, Mrs. Walton and Mrs. Beverly Chadwick.

Storms Rip Central U.S.

By The Associated Press

Violent weather kept the nation's midsection alerted today as a boundary of contrasting air masses triggered thunderstorms from Oklahoma to Wisconsin.

The U.S. Weather Bureau issued a tornado watch for portions of northern and west central Illinois, portions of southern Wisconsin and portions of extreme eastern Iowa.

Severe thunderstorms were expected in portions of extreme southeast Kansas and northeast and north central Oklahoma.

Tornadoes struck Oklahoma Sunday night and did heavy damage. No deaths were reported.

Two tornadoes hop-scotched an area six blocks wide and 30 or 40 blocks long in Enid, Okla.,

A half-dozen freight cars were also blown over and numerous house trailers were overturned and large trees uprooted.

One tornado touched down at Blackwell, Okla., damaging farm homes and buildings.

More than a dozen funnels were reported in northern and central Oklahoma.

With warm humid air streaming through the eastern half of the country, cooler drier air was pushing its way out of the Northwest into the Central Plains.

A few showers were scattered through Montana and rain spread over most of New England where highs were expected in the 80s and 90s.

The southern tip of Florida experienced some rain, but was more concerned with a storm developing in the Caribbean about 650 miles south-southwest of Miami. It was moving northward slowly and was expected to intensify today.

Glenmoor Post's Officers Seated

Dean Wright, Columbiana County American Legion commander, installed the new officers of the Glenmoor American Legion Post Saturday night at the post home.

The officers include Jay Mathess, commander, who succeeds James Foutts; John Maola, first vice commander; Curtis Virden, second vice commander; Russell Turner, adjutant; Fred Morgan Jr., finance officer; William Stowers, chaplain; Charles Bibbee, service officer, and Roland Webber, sergeant-at-arms.

The installation was preceded by a dinner and followed by a dance with members of the auxiliary as guests.

Mathess and Morgan are delegates to the 10th District convention at the Wellsville American Legion Post 70 Friday through Sunday.

The next business meeting will be held Tuesday at 8 p. m.

Retiring Fireman Feted

Forty-five attended a banquet Saturday night at Meade's Restaurant in Wellsville honoring William Haugh, who has retired from the Wellsville fire department after 33 years' service.

Jim Russell, president of the Wellsville volunteer department, is shown presenting a gift to Haugh, center, while Chief Robert Lewis, left, looks on.

Haugh served 13 years as a volunteer and 20 years on the regular department. His retirement was effective last Wednesday.

He was presented an engraved wrist watch and a fishing rod and reel. Lewis reviewed Haugh's service. Russell was in charge of the program.

Guests included Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mundy and Jack Phillips.

2 Departing Pastors Honored At Reception

A farewell reception was held Friday night at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. H. Gene Toot of St. Clair Ave. in honor of two Presbyterian ministers who are leaving the area.

The Rev. and Mrs. Russell Mase of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church are leaving in the near future for Canton, where he will serve as assistant minister at the Calvary United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. and Mrs. Bruce Davis of the Covenant United Presbyterian Church of Wellsville are moving to Upper Sandusky, where he will assume the pastorate of the United Presbyterian Church.

A buffet lunch was served to 30.

Where there are several small children in the family you can make their toothbrushes easily identified by each child if you paint his name in bright nail polish on the brush handle. Give each child a certain color and he will be able to distinguish his own toothbrush even before he can read.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Immaturity Not Always Fully Explained

A young graduate student looking for a good subject for investigation, to produce a master's or doctor's thesis, would find immaturity in children a very fruitful area. From a number of extensive published studies of immaturity the teacher might be better able to explain to parents what she means when she tells them their child is immature. Then working with the parents they together might be able to cause this child gradually to become, or seem to be, more mature. One mother puzzled over this matter with her child in the first grade, reported by her teacher as immature, asked me in a letter if it is some kind of disease and if the youngster ever can recover from it.

Dr. Garry Myers

MANY OTHER parents write with great concern about the youngster, most often in the kindergarten or primary grades, whose teacher says he is immature. Always I suggest to these anxious parents that they should ask the teacher to explain to them what she means when she says a child is immature.

Often the teacher would be puzzled to know how to answer the question of a child's immaturity. She may have picked up this word in her regular teacher training courses or special summer courses. She may often have heard the word at teacher's meetings. Sometimes a teacher not sure how to describe by any other term a child she finds hard to understand and guide at school jumps to the conclusion the child must be immature.

She might be right, of course, in applying this term to a particular child without being able to explain what she means by it. As a rule, she has a general notion or feeling that this child acts in many ways younger than the ways of most children of his age.

The child may be very shy. He may speak in babyish ways. He may not speak distinctly nor say certain words correctly. He may not readily join with the rest of the children in play or work or even listen to what they are listening to.

THE CHILD may ask questions and talk about matters unrelated to what the rest of his group are talking about. He may have poor coordination in the use of his hands and feet.

In many a letter about these children the mother says he acts silly at home, at school or both. Later I shall discuss the youngster who often "acts silly."

A youngster immature in some ways may be mature, even advanced, in other ways. He may be able to create with his hands, or create in verbal expression, or ask more intelligent questions than any other child in his class.

Indeed, in some letters from mothers about a child labelled immature by the teacher are many evidences that this child is far advanced in development in certain ways. The discerning teacher observes these strengths and finds ways with the parents' help to build on them and thus extend this help in other directions and cause the child eventually to appear to be growing up normally.

My bulletins "The Child Who is Shy", "Tot Learning to be Sociable," "The Young Child's Speech," and "The Show-Off Child" may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

President Given Report In Threat Of Airline Strike

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has received findings of a three-man panel that might help erase the threat of a July 5 strike by 34,000 workers against five major airlines.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said the report of a fact-finding board headed by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., was flown to the LBJ Ranch from Washington Sunday.

The board looked into issues underlying a dispute between the AFL-CIO Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers and five carriers: Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World and United.

If the dispute is not settled by July 5, the union will be free to strike. One aim of the Morse panel, however, was to try to come up with findings that might contribute to a settlement.

Moyers said the text of the report would be made public in Washington early this week.

Johnson, who flew to his Texas ranch with his wife last Friday, was expected to return to the White House Tuesday. The principal purpose of their weekend trip was to see 22-year-old daughter Lynda graduate with honors Saturday night from the University of Texas in Austin. Lynda's actor friend, George Hamilton, also was on hand.

U.S. Graduates Face Record Job Openings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department reports record job opportunities are awaiting the estimated 700,000 young men and women graduation from college this month.

"Employers are offering jobs to graduates at a record pace," said Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, with some starting salaries ranging to $850 a month or more.

The greatest demand is for graduates in scientific and technical fields, such as engineering, chemistry, physics and mathematics, Wirtz said.

Immaturity Not Always Fully Explained

A young graduate student looking for a good subject for investigation, to produce a master's or doctor's thesis, would find immaturity in children a very fruitful area. From a number of extensive published studies of immaturity the teacher might be better able to explain to parents what she means when she tells them their child is immature. Then working with the parents they together might be able to cause this child gradually to become, or seem to be, more mature. One mother puzzled over this matter with her child in the first grade, reported by her teacher as immature, asked me in a letter if it is some kind of disease and if the youngster ever can recover from it.

MANY OTHER parents write with great concern about the youngster, most often in the kindergarten or primary grades, whose teacher says he is immature. Always I suggest to these anxious parents that they should ask the teacher to explain to them what she means when she says a child is immature.

Often the teacher would be puzzled to know how to answer the question of a child's immaturity. She may have picked up this word in her regular teacher training courses or special summer courses. She may often have heard the word at teacher's meetings. Sometimes a teacher not sure how to describe by any other term a child she finds hard to understand and guide at school jumps to the conclusion the child must be immature.

She might be right, of course, in applying this term to a particular child without being able to explain what she means by it. As a rule, she has a general notion or feeling that this child acts in many ways younger than the ways of most children of his age.

The child may be very shy. He may speak in babyish ways. He may not speak distinctly nor say certain words correctly. He may not readily join with the rest of the children in play or work or even listen to what they are listening to.

THE CHILD may ask questions and talk about matters unrelated to what the rest of his group are talking about. He may have poor coordination in the use of his hands and feet.

In many a letter about these children the mother says he acts silly at home, at school or both. Later I shall discuss the youngster who often "acts silly."

A youngster immature in some ways may be mature, even advanced, in other ways. He may be able to create with his hands, or create in verbal expression, or ask more intelligent questions than any other child in his class.

Indeed, in some letters from mothers about a child labelled immature by the teacher are many evidences that this child is far advanced in development in certain ways. The discerning teacher observes these strengths and finds ways with the parents' help to build on them and thus extend this help in other directions and cause the child eventually to appear to be growing up normally.

My bulletins "The Child Who is Shy", "Tot Learning to be Sociable," "The Young Child's Speech," and "The Show-Off Child" may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

President Given Report In Threat Of Airline Strike

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has received findings of a three-man panel that might help erase the threat of a July 5 strike by 34,000 workers against five major airlines.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said the report of a fact-finding board headed by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., was flown to the LBJ Ranch from Washington Sunday.

The board looked into issues underlying a dispute between the AFL-CIO Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers and five carriers: Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World and United.

If the dispute is not settled by July 5, the union will be free to strike. One aim of the Morse panel, however, was to try to come up with findings that might contribute to a settlement.

Moyers said the text of the report would be made public in Washington early this week.

Johnson, who flew to his Texas ranch with his wife last Friday, was expected to return to the White House Tuesday. The principal purpose of their weekend trip was to see 22-year-old daughter Lynda graduate with honors Saturday night from the University of Texas in Austin. Lynda's actor friend, George Hamilton, also was on hand.

U.S. Graduates Face Record Job Openings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department reports record job opportunities are awaiting the estimated 700,000 young men and women graduation from college this month.

"Employers are offering jobs to graduates at a record pace," said Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, with some starting salaries ranging to $850 a month or more.

The greatest demand is for graduates in scientific and technical fields, such as engineering, chemistry, physics and mathematics, Wirtz said.

Does Your House Possess 'Charm'?

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

It's time to take the charm quotient of your house.

And don't be fooled by its size. Just because your home "has everything," it doesn't mean you have that essential ingredient, charm.

The swimming pool may be there. The sauna is a big production. There may be specimen trees, flowers, bushes, a lush lawn and an imposing house.

But extravagance in living isn't the answer.

It's an intangible thing, charm, usually acquired (1) by buying a house that has it or (2) having the knack to put it in.

It isn't in "things," the kind of expensive alterations that add to your taxes. The little house up the road that is on a tiny speck of land may have it. Little-house people often look for charm substitutes in lieu of monied things they can't afford.

HERE'S A check - off that may get you off to a charming summer:

At the front door: Is it just another door? How would it look with a small flower - filled basket hanging from it? Is there a place for a tall urn filled with greens into which you could stick a few bright flowers from time to time?

Are the porch steps rickety, waiting for handyman help? Don't discourage visitors because of it. Line each side with flowering plants.

Is the porch drab? How would plants look hanging from the porch ceiling where the sun would keep them going? Is there a place to put a flower box on the railing?

If the entrance is plain, can the downstairs windows be dressed with window boxes of colorful plants? Red and white petunias and variegated ivy are a lively combination.

Is the front lawn the type that can be fenced in inexpensively so that you can have rambling roses? This makes for one of the warmest (and most romantic) entranceways. A little gate, too, stresses a cozy sense of privacy.

Is there a place on a back lawn for statuary? A sun dial?

Is there a tree around which you can build a circular bench? Even if you don't sit on it, the illusion of solitude will add to the atmosphere.

—:—

IS THERE an oasis near the swimming pool? Not just a place where you change clothes, but a place where you can rest in the shade, something with a light cover or with an overhang of some kind — trees or a lattice frame covered with vines. The most expensive swimming pool can have a hot, sticky look when it isn't in use.

Do the birds seem at home around your place? Little bird houses can add vast amounts of charm and besides their decorative aspects provide a haven for our feathered friends. They'll reward you with songs.

Is there lots of shrubbery? A clump of it? It's an ideal spot for low benches. One answer is a slab of slate over white painted cinder block ends, cast concrete ends or metal stanchions such as those of old sewing machines that may be renewed by painting each year.

Charm can be in a brick or flagstone walk from the gate entrance to the door. (Plant creeping thyme or grass in between.) It can be in the color of shutters, the red of a barn or lily pads in a pond.

Many persons fail with the charm needle because they think in terms of bigness. Any do-it-yourself operation must be within the scope of the handyman's energies and the time at his disposal.

It is much better to have a small lawn and flower border as your show piece, something you can do well, than to spread out everywhere with flowers and ground covers that take masses of time to propogate and weed.

Every home should have pinpoints of charm. Like lace and pailletes on a dress or a savory on the buffet table, a little of it will provide the final fillip that makes the difference between a house and a home.

Plan Offered For Tool Shed

All experienced suburbanites and country people know that it is bad practice to leave rollers, barrows, lawnmowers and other equipment out of doors.

At the same time, it is frequently a lot of trouble to put them away, particularly if you are tired after a day's work around the place.

The answer to this is to build a light shed, with the floor at ground level, so that anything on wheels can be rolled in with a minimum of jockeying and arranging.

The shed should be approximately 10 feet wide, 8 feet deep and 6 feet, 6 inches high. These dimnsions are subject to any change necessary to suit individual needs.

The shed is built on what is known as a mud-sill 2-by-4s treated against rot and laid right on the leveled ground. Studs are set above this to take the sheathing of plain tongued and grooved boards. The front of the shed is six or eight inches higher than the rear wall to provide roof drainage. Roof rafters are 2-by-4s laid on the twoinch side. Roof is also of tongue and groove and covered with a single layer of roofing paper.

Where a concrete floor is desired, the area between the sill is simply filled with concrete and troweled or screeded off level. Some people who have built this shed add a canvas drop curtain to close out the more severe weather.

Suggestions Are Offered On Types Of House Finish

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

If you want to preserve the natural wood appearance of the outside of your house, you have to decide between a penetrating-type or a "built-up" finish.

Penetrating finishes are either clear or slightly pigmented. The latter tend to restore the original color of the wood without hiding the grain and include what are generally referred to as shingle stains.

The built - up finish can be spar varnish, marine varnish or any similar product made to produce a surface coating. At one time, this type of finish could be obtained only in the glossy, hard form, which was especially suitable for doors and comparatively small surfaces but sometimes cracked after a period of time when applied to entire houses.

Today, certain types of resin-free varnishes are available in both dull and glossy finishes. Not being as hard as spar or marine varnishes, they are less susceptible to cracking during the expansion and contraction periods of wood.

Penetrating finishes, sometimes called sealers, must be applied to raw wood or to wood which previously was treated with a similar type of finish. Some of them contain wood preservatives, of special value where conditions might facilitate the growth of fungus.

Some also have touches of color, such as those which deepen the tone of redwood but do not cover the grain.

We often are asked whether it is better to apply paint or a clear finish to the outside of a house.

Much depends on what is meant by the word "better." Nothing is better, for instance, if it doesn't suit your personal fancy. Nothing is better if it is so out of harmony with the neighborhood in which you live that your house takes on a freakish appearance.

The first thing to be decided, therefore, is which finish you prefer and which will not be out of harmony with the architecture of the house and those around it.

Once having made that decision, you should keep these facts in mind.

Penetrating finishes usually spread farther than paint and thus generally are more economical. But paint usually will last longer on the outside of a house, assuming that both products are of good quality. Varnish finishes come in a wide range of prices and also have a shorter exterior life than paint.

An important consideration is the type of finish already on the house.

Be very certain to read the directions on the container, before you buy, to determine how much work you will have to do to get the old surface ready. This could make up your mind for you in a hurry.

Graying Process

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Results of a study by two Australian researchers show that neither original hair color nor a person's sex has any appreciable affect on the hair - graying process. Half of a group of 50-year-olds studied were at least half-gray irrespective of sex or original hair color. The researchers concluded that 50 per cent of the population with naturally fair hair is at least 50 per cent gray at 48.6 years of age; those with medium - dark hair at 49.4 years; and with dark hair at 49.1 years.

Traveling Fire

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — Firemen didn't go to a fire here — the fire was brought to them with a police escort. Two officers, riding in a police patrol car, saw a refuse truck on fire. They halted the surprised driver, told him of the situation and asked that he follow them in his truck as they headed for the fire station where the blaze was quickly extinguished.

It's Painting, Decorating Week

You could give your home or place of busines that much needed face - lifting this summer — but if your vacation time will be filled with travel, recreation and liesure, let the painting and decorating professionals do the job for you.

In support of National Painting and Decorating Week — June 13 to 19 — the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association reminds you of the benefits of hiring a professional painting and decorating contractor for these rehabilitation jobs.

The contractors have modern and specialized tools — plenty of them — so that the owner need only invest his capital in materials and labor.

PAINTING AND decorating contractors usually carry complete accident insurance as well, which could save you the expense and headache that would result from accidental injury to painters on your property.

Convenience to the owner is a prime concern of these professionals. For instance — the contractor is in constant contact with his various sources of supply and can schedule deliveries of materials or tools to the job site as needed. Experience in selection of materials is another asset of the professional, and saves the owner from worry of over - buying expense, or under-buying inconvenience.

Speed is still another convenience factor on the plus side. "Quickly in and out" is the by-word of the professional painting and decorating contractor, because he gears the work to that end. This rapid completion of a job is a result of organization and specialized training of the craftsmen. But, in this case at least, haste doesn't make waste — it merely speeds the home owner or businessman in returning to his normal day-to-day activities.

THESE craftsmen are conscientious as well. Maintaining good housekeeping on the job, complying with strictly enforced company safety rules, and coordinating work to avoid interference with the owner permit the best possible service.

The early weeks of summer—whether during National Painting and Decorating Week or not —are prime times for renovation, so call your contractor now. He will be glad to give you any additional information and details concerning maintenance contract painting.

Here are some suggestions for selecting that professional. To make sure he is a reputable contractor, ask him for references from jobs in your area within the past two years; make sure he is properly insured under the Workmen's Compensation Act, and has liability insurance against damage to your property; ask for a written contract which explicitly covers the work to be done, the price, time and terms of payment. And, finally, make sure that the contractor has all the necessary equipment and high - quality paint required for the job.

Step-By-Step Method Given For Replacing Broken Brick

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

The average man will hesitate to attempt brickwork of any kind, particularly where it involves cutting a split or broken brick out of a wall.

However, this sort of job is less troublesome than one might think, because the main consideration is to be gentle. You cannot pound and hammer on a brick wall without loosening the mortar joints for quite an area around the spot where you are working.

When it is found that a brick is broken, leaving a crack or hole through which weahter can pneetrate, the first step is to get a sharp cold - chisel and a heavy hammer.

Most common bricks are fairly soft and can be chipped and cut with little effort. A broken brick usually will be loose in its recess and can be picked out after a little work with the chisel. All the mortar left in the recess must be chiseled out clean and the recess dusted out.

After this, top, bottom and ends of the recess must be wetted thoroughly. The new brick to go into the recess should be dipped in a pail of water and allowed to soak for a few minutes. A bed of mortar of proper depth should be spread in the recess bottom and the top and sides slightly buttered.

The brick then should be inserted and mortar tucked in all around to give filled joints. The new joints should be raked out or beveled to match the jointwork of the wall.

Brick walls can be leaky without broken bricks. Usually this comes from cracked mortar joints or from shrunken joints.

Repointing such a wall is a tremendous and tedious job, but it has been fairly well established that there are waterproofing liquids which correct the condition and waterproof the wall. The best of these will not change the color of the brickwork.

To make a foil liner for any dish or pan, press foil over the outside of the inverted utensil, remove and gently shape inside of it.

Texas Big Digger

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Deep in this part of Texas they move the most with the biggest. Eight 10-foot-high tires carry a 200-foot-long earth mover, the biggest of its kind in the world. The big digger can scoop up 36 tons of earth in 90 seconds and transport it at 20 miles an hour, without stopping for loading and unloading. The 6,000-pound Goodrich tires, five feet across at the tread, transmit nearly a million pounds of tractive force generated by the digger's 5080 horsepower.

Burglars Take Time

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)— Burglars who ransacked the offices and pastor's study at the New Hope Baptist Church took time out to dine by candlelight before making their escape. Police officers found the remains of a feast in the church basement, including empty pop bottles, four bowls of chili and candles, still lighted, on a small, makeshift table.

Small Scale Mining

VALLEY VIEW, Tex. (AP) — Some diamond mining on a small but frantic scale was carried out in a yard here recently. Glenn Neu, 13, conducted a ceremonial "interment" for his pet gold fish using his mother's jewelry case for a coffin for his pet. When his mother realized that the case contained her engagement ring, mining operations began in a hurry. Since young Glenn had forgotten just where the burial took place, recovery of the ring took some time.

It's Painting, Decorating Week

You could give your home or place of busines that much needed face - lifting this summer — but if your vacation time will be filled with travel, recreation and liesure, let the painting and decorating professionals do the job for you.

In support of National Painting and Decorating Week — June 13 to 19 — the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association reminds you of the benefits of hiring a professional painting and decorating contractor for these rehabilitation jobs.

The contractors have modern and specialized tools — plenty of them — so that the owner need only invest his capital in materials and labor.

PAINTING AND decorating contractors usually carry complete accident insurance as well, which could save you the expense and headache that would result from accidental injury to painters on your property.

Convenience to the owner is a prime concern of these professionals. For instance — the contractor is in constant contact with his various sources of supply and can schedule deliveries of materials or tools to the job site as needed. Experience in selection of materials is another asset of the professional, and saves the owner from worry of over - buying expense, or under-buying inconvenience.

Speed is still another convenience factor on the plus side. "Quickly in and out" is the by-word of the professional painting and decorating contractor, because he gears the work to that end. This rapid completion of a job is a result of organization and specialized training of the craftsmen. But, in this case at least, haste doesn't make waste — it merely speeds the home owner or businessman in returning to his normal day-to-day activities.

THESE craftsmen are conscientious as well. Maintaining good housekeeping on the job, complying with strictly enforced company safety rules, and coordinating work to avoid interference with the owner permit the best possible service.

The early weeks of summer—whether during National Painting and Decorating Week or not—are prime times for renovation, so call your contractor now. He will be glad to give you any additional information and details concerning maintenance contract painting.

Here are some suggestions for selecting that professional. To make sure he is a reputable contractor, ask him for references from jobs in your area within the past two years; make sure he is properly insured under the Workmen's Compensation Act, and has liability insurance against damage to your property; ask for a written contract which explicitly covers the work to be done, the price, time and terms of payment. And, finally, make sure that the contractor has all the necessary equipment and high - quality paint required for the job.

Mao's Heirs Fight

Red China's Purge Seen Start Of Power Struggle

TOKYO (AP) — The Peking watchers believe the current purge in Red China is the beginning of a power struggle among Mao Tze-tung's heirs.

Following the ouster of powerful Peking Mayor Peng Chen from his party post, some observers predicted a showdown between President Liu Shao-chi and Premier Chou En-lai. Their theory was that Chou had Peng fired for fear he would try to grab Chou's position as premier. The observers said Peng had been maneuvering to become premier under President Liu's protection by blaming Chou for recent economic and diplomatic reverses.

Liu and Chou, both 67, are China's two most powerful men after Communist party chairman Mao, whose failing health is believed to have touched off the power struggle. Mao is 72 and makes few public appearances.

Those who foresee the power struggle continuing, with the purge catching even more prominent figures, say one of the next victims could be the army chief Lo Jui-ching. Lo disappeared from public view last November, one months after high-level party meetings.

Some say Lo may have disagreed with the aims and conduct of the purge, which in the early stages took the form of a campaign by army newspapers against intellectuals. If Lo was a friend of Mayor Peng, so the theory goes, then he also may have been aligned with the forces of President Liu, who suffered a setback with Peng's ouster.

Other observers see the possibility of a clash between President Liu and Defense minister Lin Piao, 57. Lin, who is also first deputy premier, recently put forth new lines of theory on how to implement Mao's teachings.

Another figure with possible key role in the struggle is Teng Hsiao-ping, 61-year-old party secretary-general.

Teng's position is not yet clear but a leading Tokyo newspaper says he, too, may have thrown his support to Premier Chou against President Liu. The newspaper, Mainichi, speculates that Ten once was close to President Liu but later shifted to Premier Chou and got Lin Piao to begin the crackdown on dissident intellectuals.

Girls Spend 10 Hours In Raid Shelter

CLEVELAND (AP) — What happens when 70 young girls spend 10 hours in a simmulated fallout shelter?

"It was a lot of fun," said Chris Gannon, a seventh grader at St. Raphael School in Bay Village.

"We learned a lot about panic and what to do in unexpected situations," said a classmate, Beth Nilges.

The youngsters, all about 12-years-old, are Girl Scouts from troops in the Rocky River-Bay Village area. Their leader, Mrs. F. Robert Wiesenberger, said Sunday "we wanted to give the girls some idea of what life in any sort of stress situation might be like."

The girls went into the band room in the basement of Rocky River Junior High School Saturday and came out that night.

They had nothing to eat or drink but crackers and lukewarm water.

James W. Cowden, Cuyahoga County Civil Defense, manned the school's loudspeaker system and broadcast things about enemy bombers and radiation.

The broadcasts apparently didn't affect the girls. "I thought there'd be more scary stuff," one said.

No More Faddy Diets!

Creeping overweight is a modern affliction. The pounds ease on slowly, but nobody is content to take them off slowly.

Ida Jean Kain

One woman said to herself, "Look, I've wasted 12 years trying to find a fast way to reduce. Now I am going to simply start my weight going in the right direction — down."

She did it too, and learned to cook in a lower calorie way. To avoid monotony, she suggested that food preparation be varied.

INSTEAD OF always having a poached or soft boiled egg, try a baked egg. Break the egg into a ramekin, season, set it in the oven and bake for 15 minutes. That's only 80 calories, and a most delicious dish.

Another dieter passes along a tip to help those who find it hard to cut down on bread. Slice that precious piece of breakfast toast (after toasting) by placing it flat on a cutting board and slicing with a serrated knife, protecting hand with padded holder. It cuts easily and gives the illusion of two slices of toast, one for your egg and the other for some dietetic jam.

At lunch, use the same plan for turning one slice of bread into two and make a slimming sandwich. For a filling salad, add grated carrot to shredded lettuce, cut up celery and green pepper, plus one tablespoon of French Dressing.

Gourmet cooks point out that if vegetables are cooked quickly in a small amount of water, fat is not needed. A pinch of herb is tasty. . .nutmeg on squash, ginger or marjoram on carrots and zucchini, basil or bay leaf with tomato dishes, and dill with string beans. For company dinner, add sliced water chestnuts to any green vegetable.

For a dinner dessert, a dieter suggested having three large luscious strawberries. With the hulls left one, the berries can be eaten au naturel. By tasting them intensively, this dieter was delighted with just three strawberries.

HER EXPERIENCE reminded me of a line I had jotted down. . ."The fresh melting sweentess of a ripe strawberry on the tongue restores for a moment the lost paradise where wild roses grow and birds whistle endless summer."

Dieters, try giving food a gourmet touch and the extra ingredient of attention. All this enhances taste satisfaction. Then your appetite centers alert your brain and you feel content without filling up on too much food. This in turn helps you to diminish your food capacity. There's the slimming secret — diminish your food capacity.

Menus should be a delight, especially when you are trying to keep the calories down.

Thank you one and all for sharing.

Send stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for Revised Calorie Chart. Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review.

Senators Ponder Space Expense, Aeronautic Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report issued by the Senate Space Committee cautions that vast outlays for the U.S. space program "may be obscuring and interfering with the important and rewarding benefits to be realized in civil aviation of the future."

The 279-page report released by the committee chairman, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., questions the over-all adequacy of the current program that provides more than $5 billion for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration but earmarks only $124 million for aeronautics.

Continued progress in aeronautics involves the economic strength, national prestige and military security of the United States, the report says.

Mine Threatens Park Lake In Pennsylvania

BUTLER, Pa. (AP) — A state legislator says a proposed lake and state park may become a "dead sea" unless an abandoned coal mine is resealed quickly.

State Rep. Thomas J. Foerster, Jeanette Democrat, made the statement Sunday following a tour with other legislators, conservationists along Muddy Creek in the area where Arthur and Morain State Park are now under construction.

A seal on the mine burst Thursday allowing the acid drainage to flow downstream and kill about 2,000 fish, according to Richard Abplanalp, Butler County fish warden.

People In News

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — When they were born Friday in Frankford Hospital, Mrs. Richard Eife called her quadruplets A, B, C, and D.

After a conference Sunday with her husband, a police detective sergeant, the quads were named Alan, Beth Anne, Catherine Anne, and David Anthony.

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Future communications systems will beam sound, printed words or images directly to the home, office or school in almost unlimited quantities, says Robert W. Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America.

Sarnoff was commencement speaker Sunday at Washburn University. He was awarded an honorary degree of doctor of fine arts.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the Selective Service System, said Sunday that if ever there is a universal military training program, girls would not be drafted.

"It's hard to sell the armed forces on the use of women," Hershey said in a television interview.

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower told Kansas State University graduates Sunday not to let the attention given "kooks and beatniks" disturb them.

"I think the people of your age have a function right now," Eisenhower said, adding: "My generation and even those who are younger have grown pessimistic and lethargic. You people can do much with your elders."

WINDSOR, England (AP)—Prince Philip was thrown by his polo pony Sunday during a match in Windsor Great Park.

Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, immediately scrambled up, remounted his pony, and went on to score the winning goal for his team, Friar Park.

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 100 flags hung at half staff Sunday from porches, windows and doorways in the Flatbush section of Brooklyn in tribute to a fallen neighbor—Marine Lance Cpl. William Reilly, killed in Viet Nam.

Reilly, 20, died May 26 while firing his bazooka at the Viet Cong near Da Nang. His body was brought home Friday.

Neighbors recalled that the red-haired Reilly had two goals: to serve in the Marine Corps and follow in the footsteps of his father, retired patrolman Oliver Reilly, 50.

Liu and Chou, both 67, are China's two most powerful men after Communist party chairman Mao, whose failing health is believed to have touched off the power struggle. Mao is 72 and makes few public appearances.

Those who foresee the power struggle continuing, with the purge catching even more prominent figures, say one of the next victims could be the army chief Lo Jui-ching. Lo disappeared from public view last November, one months after high-level party meetings.

Some say Lo may have disagreed with the aims and conduct of the purge, which in the early stages took the form of a campaign by army newspapers against intellectuals. If Lo was a friend of Mayor Peng, so the theory goes, then he also may have been aligned with the forces of President Liu, who suffered a setback with Peng's ouster.

Other observers see the possibility of a clash between President Liu and Defense minister Lin Piao, 57. Lin, who is also first deputy premier, recently put forth new lines of theory on how to implement Mao's teachings.

Another figure with . possible key role in the struggle is Teng Hsiao-ping, 61-year-old party secretary-general.

Teng's position is not yet clear but a leading Tokyo newspaper says he, too, may have thrown his support to Premier Chou against President Liu. The newspaper, Mainichi, speculates that Ten once was close to President Liu but later shifted to Premier Chou and got Lin Piao to begin the crackdown on dissident intellectuals.

Girls Spend 10 Hours In Raid Shelter

CLEVELAND (AP) — What happens when 70 young girls spend 10 hours in a simmulated fallout shelter?

"It was a lot of fun," said Chris Gannon, a seventh grader at St. Raphael School in Bay Village.

"We learned a lot about panic and what to do in unexpected situations," said a classmate, Beth Nilges.

The youngsters, all about 12-years-old, are Girl Scouts from troops in the Rocky River-Bay Village area. Their leader, Mrs. F. Robert Wiesenberger, said Sunday "we wanted to give the girls some idea of what life in any sort of stress situation might be like."

The girls went into the band room in the basement of Rocky River Junior High School Saturday and came out that night.

They had nothing to eat or drink but crackers and lukewarm water.

James W. Cowden, Cuyahoga County Civil Defense, manned the school's loudspeaker system and broadcast things about enemy bombers and radiation.

The broadcasts apparently didn't affect the girls. "I thought there'd be more scary stuff," one said.

Keep In Trim

No More Faddy Diets!

Creeping overweight is a modern affliction. The pounds ease on slowly, but nobody is content to take them off slowly.

Ida Jean Kain

One woman said to herself, "Look, I've wasted 12 years trying to find a fast way to reduce. Now I am going to simply start my weight going in the right direction — down."

She did it too, and learned to cook in a lower calorie way. To avoid monotony, she suggested that food preparation be varied.

INSTEAD OF always having a poached or soft boiled egg, try a baked egg. Break the egg into a ramekin, season, set it in the oven and bake for 15 minutes. That's only 80 calories, and a most delicious dish.

Another dieter passes along a tip to help those who find it hard to cut down on bread. Slice that precious piece of breakfast toast (after toasting) by placing it flat on a cutting board and slicing with a serrated knife, protecting hand with padded holder. It cuts easily and gives the illusion of two slices of toast, one for your egg and the other for some dietetic jam.

At lunch, use the same plan for turning one slice of bread into two and make a slimming sandwich. For a filling salad, add grated carrot to shredded lettuce, cut up celery and green pepper, plus one tablespoon of French Dressing.

Gourmet cooks point out that if vegetables are cooked quickly in a small amount of water, fat is not needed. A pinch of herb is tasty. . .nutmeg on squash, ginger or marjoram on carrots and zucchini, basil or bay leaf with tomato dishes, and dill with string beans. For company dinner, add sliced water chestnuts to any green vegetable.

For a dinner dessert, a dieter suggested having three large luscious strawberries. With the hulls left one, the berries can be eaten au naturel. By tasting them intensively, this dieter was delighted with just three strawberries.

HER EXPERIENCE reminded me of a line I had jotted down. . ."The fresh melting sweentess of a ripe strawberry on the tongue restores for a moment the lost paradise where wild roses grow and birds whistle endless summer."

Dieters, try giving food a gourmet touch and the extra ingredient of attention. All this enhances taste satisfaction. Then your appetite centers alert your brain and you feel content without filling up on too much food. This in turn helps you to diminish your food capacity. There's the slimming secret — diminish your food capacity.

Menus should be a delight, especially when you are trying to keep the calories down.

Thank you one and all for sharing.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — When they were born Friday in Frankford Hospital, Mrs. Richard Eife called her quadruplets A, B, C, and D.

After a conference Sunday with her husband, a police detective sergeant, the quads were named Alan, Beth Anne, Catherine Anne, and David Anthony.

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Future communications systems will beam sound, printed words or images directly to the home, office or school in almost unlimited quantities, says Robert W. Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America.

Sarnoff was commencement speaker Sunday at Washburn University. He was awarded an honorary degree of doctor of fine arts.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the Selective Service System, said Sunday that if ever there is a universal military training program, girls would not be drafted.

"It's hard to sell the armed forces on the use of women," Hershey said in a television interview.

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower told Kansas State University graduates Sunday not to let the attention given "kooks and beatniks" disturb them.

"I think the people of your age have a function right now," Eisenhower said, adding: "My generation and even those who are younger have grown pessimistic and lethargic. You people can do much with your elders."

WINDSOR, England (AP)—Prince Philip was thrown by his polo pony Sunday during a match in Windsor Great Park.

Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, immediately scrambled up, remounted his pony, and went on to score the winning goal for his team, Friar Park.

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 100 flags hung at half staff Sunday from porches, windows and doorways in the Flatbush section of Brooklyn in tribute to a fallen neighbor—Marine Lance Cpl. William Reilly, killed in Viet Nam.

Reilly, 20, died May 26 while firing his bazooka at the Viet Cong near Da Nang. His body was brought home Friday.

Neighbors recalled that the red-haired Reilly had two goals: to serve in the Marine Corps and follow in the footsteps of his father, retired patrolman Oliver Reilly, 50.

JAKARTA (AP)—Preisdent Sukarno of Indonesia celebrated his 65th birthday today.

Senators Ponder Space Expense, Aeronautic Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report issued by the Senate Space Committee cautions that vast outlays for the U.S. space program "may be obscuring and interfering with the important and rewarding benefits to be realized in civil aviation of the future."

The 279-page report released by the committee chairman, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., questions the over-all adequacy of the current program that provides more than $5 billion for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration but earmarks only $124 million for aeronautics.

Continued progress in aeronautics involves the economic strength, national prestige and military security of the United States, the report says.

Publisher Claimed

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Edwin Thomas Meredith Jr., 60, who helped Meredith Publishing Co. become one of the nation's largest magazine publishers, died Sunday. The firm publishes Better Homes and Gardens, and Successful Farming, and owns several radio and television stations.

Mine Threatens Park Lake In Pennsylvania

BUTLER, Pa. (AP) — A state legislator says a proposed lake and state park may become a "dead sea" unless an abandoned coal mine is resealed quickly.

State Rep. Thomas J. Foerster, Jeanette Democrat, made the statement Sunday following a tour with other legislators and conservationists along Muddy Creek in the area where Lake Arthur and Morain State Park are now under construction.

A seal on the mine burst Thursday allowing the acid drainage to flow downstream and kill about 2,000 fish, according to Richard Abplanalp, Mercer County fish warden.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a working man and always has made a modest salary. We have managed to raise and educate our four children by following my mother's rule: "Eat it all. Wear it out. Sew it up. Do without."

Now that the children are on their own, things could be a lot easier financially, except for one thing. My husband goes on a drinking spree every two or three weeks and places long-distance telephone calls to friends all over North America.

He calls people he hasn't seen in years, like his old Marine buddies. I can tell by his end of the conversation that some of these people don't even remember him.

Furthermore, I can't get it through his head about the different time zones. We live in Santa Barbara. Last night he called a buddy in Buffalo at 11 p. m. and wondered why he didn't get a big hello. He got mad and yelled, "How do you like that jerk—asleep at 11 o'clock?"

I tried to explain that while it is 11 o'clock in California it is 2 a.m. in New York. He said I was crazy.

It burns me up that I have to hunt for bargains to save a few pennies on canned goods while my husband squanders hundreds of dollars on drunken nonsense that he can't even remember the next day. Please tell me what to do.—VERY ANNOYED.

Dear Very: Ask around and determine if any of your local friends have husbands who are similarly afflicted. The boys could form a group known as Telephone Drunks Anonymous. When they get stiff they can call each other up and talk their heads off. This would be a heckuva lot cheaper than calling Buffalo.

If you can't turn up anyone, try waving last month's phone bill before his bloodshot eyes when he begins to go off the deep end. It might help—depending on how smashed he is.

Inside Information

Dear Ann: I had an appointment with my doctor today and something happened that upset me terribly.

When the nurse left the room I picked up the doctor's chart. I had read only a few sentences when the nurse rushed back into the room, snatched the chart from my hands and shouted, "You are not supposed to see this."

I said, "Why not? It's about me, isn't it?" The nurse did not answer. She went to the doctor and told him that I had begun to read the chart and had gotten angry when she took it away.

The doctor sided with the nurse and I blew my top. I told him if I couldn't see the chart I didn't want to see him either. He said, "If that's the way you feel, goodbye."

Please tell me if this is a common practice or if my doctor is just plain mean.—EAU CLAIRE, WIS.

-:-

Dear Eau Claire: I know of no physician who allows his patients to see the charts—and for very good reason.

A chart contains the doctor's impressions and suspicions. A patient might interpret these notations as a final diagnosis and be unduly concerned.

If you described the nurse's behavior accurately she was unnecessarily rough with you. I think she owes you an apology—and you owe the doctor one.

Confidentially

TO MARRYING FOR FREEDOM: You may find yourself with LESS freedom than before, "Miss 19." True, your parents won't be able to bug you as in days of yore but marriage carries with it some crushing responsibilities. What you have in mind could mean a more restrictive type of "imprisonment." Cool it, Sister.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Father Slays His 2 Small Children In Pennsylvania

WARREN, Pa. (AP) — A Warren County man recently released from a mental hospital has been charged with murder in the slayings of his two infant children.

Warren County Sheriff D. E. Allen said Edward Sadley, 31, of nearby Pleasant Twp. was found walking along a road near his home Sunday.

At his home, one-year-old Jean Sadley had been shot to death in her crib and her two-year-old brother, John, was lying dead on a bedroom floor.

Allen said the children's mother, Anita, found them when she returned to the house after a short absence.

Dr. Robert Israel, superintendent of the Warren State Hospital, said Sadley was "acutely ill" when admitted to the institution on Jan. 27, but made rapid progress and was discharged on May 7.

Kent Coed Improves After Leap From Span

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP)—A 20-year-old Kent State University coed is recuperating today from injuries received in a fall from the 175-foot-high Beaver Bridge on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Police said when they found Ann Schlee of Castilia, Ohio, in a semi-conscious state Saturday, she admitted jumping but would give no reason. She landed in soft mud along the edge of the Beaver River.

Police said she drove onto the turnpike alone.

Nevada Slates Ballot On Lottery For State

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Nevada voters will decide whether to start the state's first official lottery next November, says Secretary of State John Koontz.

A firm, Silver State Sweep stakes, filed a petition containing more than twice the 13,738 signatures required to place a proposition on the ballot, Koontz said.

Silver State Sweepstakes hopes to acquire an exclusive 10-year franchise on the lottery.

Monthly Report Given On Titles

LISBON — Columbiana County titled 642 new vehicles worth $1,930,018 in May, Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey reports.

The number compares with 567 for April and 637 for May a year ago, but is 92 below the record set in March this year.

Stacey said the Title Department issued 4,492 auto titles, 40 duplicate titles, 1,092 memorandums, six duplicate memorandums, 1,674 notations of liens, 1,360 cancellations of liens and 1,243 acknowledgements.

Sixty - nine civil cases were filed in Common Pleas Court last month.

The title department received cash totaling $6,787, of which the county received $5,082 and the state $1,625. Stacey reports $8,767 was paid the county treasurer in fees collected in common pleas court and the car title department.

The state treasurer received $7,513 from the collection of sales and use tax, $68,570 from the collection of the dealers tax, $1,625 for car title fees and $902 for inspection certificates — a total of $78,610.

I found a friend

What did I know about buying a ring for Janie? I hemmed and hawed in a couple of stores. What should I be looking for?

Then my married sis said "Go to Shaw's . . . they're an old reliable firm." I did—and found a friend, a diamond expert who took the time to start from scratch. He explained the 4 c's (color, cut, clarity, carat weight). He took the mystery out of diamond buying.

Next week Janie's going with me to Shaw's to select her favorite ring style. My friend, the diamond expert, and I have already agreed on the diamond size and price that's right for my budget.

(You know, my Grandad says he found the same friendly help when he bought a Shaw's diamond in 1920!)

9 Hits In Row; Four Homers For Cardenas

By MIKE RATHET

Leo Cardenas fell one homer shy of a record. He won't get another chance — without starting over.

Willie Stargell fell one hit shy of a record. But he will get another chance — without starting over.

Cardenas, Cincinnati's 160 pound shortstop, slammed four homers and drove in eight runs as the Reds split a doubleheader with Chicago Sunday, winning the opener 8-3 before the Cubs took the nightcap 9-5.

By hitting four homers in a twinbill, Cardenas accomplished a feat that hadn't been done since the 1963 season. But he still fell one shy of the five Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals hit in a 1954 doubleheader.

Cardenas won't get another chance, unless he starts another muscle-flexing streak, but Stargell still has a chance to match the National League and major league records for most consecutive hits.

The Pittsburgh slugger was interrupted by the end of the Pirates' 10-5 victory over Houston after collecting five straight hits, including two homers. And he still had a streak of nine consecutive hits intact.

When the Pirates meet St. Louis Tuesday night he'll get a shot at the NL record of 10 — last achieved by Cincinnati's Woodie Williams in 1943 — and the major league record of 12 — last reached by Walt Dropo of Detroit in 1952.

Elsewhere, Atlanta crushed St. Louis 14-4, San Francisco edged Philadelphia 7-6 in 10 innings and Los Angeles and New York split, the Dodgers cruising to a 16-3 victory before the Mets won the nightcap 3-2.

Cardenas provided all the runs the Reds' needed in the opener, driving five runs with two homers and a single. Ron Santo and Randy Hundley homered for the Cubs.

Cardenas also hit two homers in the nightcap and added a double while driving in three runs, but the Cubs came from behind and won it with a five-run ninth. Billy Williams drove in the tying and lead runs with a two-out single.

Stargell drove in four runs against the Astros with his two homers, two singles and a double leading a 16-hit attack that stretched the Pirates' winning streak to five. Roberto Clemente also homered while Jim Wynn hit a pair of the Astros in a 4-for-4 performance.

The Braves rolled to their third straight victory after a string of seven losses by unloading 16 hits against the Cardinals. Denis Menke led the outburst that included a seven-run fifth inning in which 13 men batted by driving in five runs with a homer and four singles.

The Giants tied the Phillies in the ninth on singles by Tito Fuentes and Willie Mays around a sacrifice, then won it in the 10th when Hal Lanier tagged reliever Bo Belinsky for a two-out homer. Dick Groat drove in four of Philadelphia's runs.

Sandy Koufax won the opener for the Dodgers with a five-hitter, joining San Franciso's Juan Marichal as the majors' only 10-game winners. Koufax was supported by a 19-hit attack that included five straight hits by Tommy Davis and two homers by Wes Parker.

Davis added two hits and Parker added a homer in the nightcap. But the Mets won it in the ninth when they pushed across a run on singles by Ken Boyer and Jerry Grote around an intentional walk, and a wild pitch by reliever Ron Perranoski.

Little League Gets $708 From Tag Day

A total of $708 was realized in Saturday's tag day on behalf of the Little League here, Lawrence Zollinger, chairman, reported.

Local Team Wins, Loses

The Friendly Merchants of East Liverpool split in two baseball games over the weekend, topping Youngstown Home Club, 8-2, and losing to Beaver, 10-0.

Quateo paced the victory over Youngstown with a triple and three singles. Whittington added two hits.

The Merchants ran into home run power in suffering the loss to Beaver as Morton and Snitger cleared the fences. Snitger also pounded out a triple and a single.

Meeks and Walker had two hits each for the losers.

The Merchants travels to Youngstown today to play at 7 p.m. at Pembleton Park.

Kathy Whitworth Captures 'Open'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "Mickey's great, but she's only human," said Kathy Whitworth, the 1965 women's professional golf leading money winner. Then she vanquished Miss Wright in the $12,500 Clayton Federal Open Tournament.

After surging into the second-round lead Saturday with birdies on the final two holes, Mickey Wright, idle during last season, bogeyed the first three of the last round and finished fifth with 208.

Miss Whitworth shot rounds of 68, 72, and 68 for a one-under-par 208 and a victory worth $1,875. She is now leading on the circuit with total earnings of $10,344 this season.

Yancey Wins At Memphis

Roys Save Day For Bert

By BOB GILBERT

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Roy is a big name in life of Bert Yancey, new champion of the $100,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament.

Both were there Sunday when he needed them for his record-setting journey to a 15-under-par 265, lowest score on the 1966 PGA tour, and $20,000 in first-place prize money.

Roy Stone, a touring caddy, telephoned Yancey at the motel and told him he had only 10 minutes to reach the course to tee off on the final 18 holes.

Roy Sanders, Yancey's caddy during the tournament, talked strategy with the young Philadelphian and suggested the 2-iron shot which Yancey said was his best fairway swing of the day.

Yancey, trailing Gene Littler by one stroke going into the final round, fired a four-under-par 66 for a 265 total, one stroke lower than Cary Middlecoff shot in winning the 1961 title.

"I was putting really well," the 27-year-old Yancey said. He birdied five holes and had only one bogey.

Yancey slept late and then watched television coverage of the Gemini 9 space adventure until 20 minutes before time to tee off. The starting time had been advanced because of TV coverage of the tournament.

"At 11:10, Roy called me and said I was due off at 11:20," he said. "I was never so frightened. I just knew I had blown the whole works."

He reached the tee eight minutes before he would have been disqualified.

Littler, at 270, finished second and won $12,000.

'Feel I Can Run Faster,' Ryun Says After Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — America's fastest miler, Jim Ryun of the University of Kansas, feels he can run faster yet — and if he does, he'll be the world champion miler.

Ryun smashed the American record and missed the world mark of France's Michel Jazy by one-tenth of a second as he turned in a remarkable 3:53.7 performance at the Compton Invitational Saturday night at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

"I was not disappointed," Ryun said of his near miss,"But I feel I could have run a little faster."

The 19-year-old freshman said he would like to run against Jazy himself, but added, "I understand it's a little hard to do." He referred to the Frenchman's seeming reluctance to compete with serious threats away from his homeland.

Ryun's time bettered the American record of 3:54.9 posted at Modesto, Calif., in 1963 by Peter Snell of New Zealand.

Jim Grelle, the Portland, Ore., flash who broke the four minute mile for his 20th time in finishing second. His time was 3:56 flat.

Ryun's official clockings were 59.9, 1:58.5, 2:58.5 and 3:53.7.

Another youngster, 20-year-old Gerry Lindgren of Washington State University ran off with the 5,000 meters in 13:38.0, equalling the American record Bob Schul set at the same meet two years ago.

Peters Looks Like Old Self; Twins Topple Cleveland

By The Associated Press

Gary Peters is putting less kick into his work this season and getting more kicks out of it.

Peters, who isn't lifting his leg as high this year, brought his foot down on Washington Sunday, pitching a two-hitter as the Chicago White Sox completed a sweep of a doubleheader with a 12-0 victory. They won the opener 4-1.

The start for Peters was his first in two weeks, since he strained the bicep in his left arm in the first inning of a game against Cleveland.

"It was the best game I've thrown in two years," said Peters, who didn't allow the Senators a hit until the seventh inning. The performance brought his record to 3-2 and his earned run average to 2.18.

It also gave him two complete games, one more than he had all of last year, and one shutout, also one more than he had last year when he dipped from 20-game season in 1964 to a 10-12 record and a 3.63 ERA.

The 29-year-old left-hander believes a combination of bad timing and incorrect kicking affected his pitching last year.

While Peters is enjoying his pitching more, the rest of the White Sox staff is having fun, too.

The shutout was the sixth in the last 10 games for Chicago, a period which has seen the pitching staff post an amazing ERA of 0.80. In that time, too, the White Sox have won eight games and moved from seventh place, 10½ games back, to fourth place, 5½ out.

Elsewhere in the American League Minnesota whipped Cleveland 9-4, Baltimore edged Kansas City 6-5 in the 12th inning of a suspended game before losing the regular game 9-4, New York downed Boston 5-3 and Detroit swept California 8-4 and 4-1.

Tommie Agee supplied much of the White Sox power, driving in all four runs in the opener with a homer and a tiple and scoring three runs in the second game. Tom McCraw drove in three runs in the nightcap while Don Buford and Smoky Burgess each knocked in two.

Harmon Killebrew's fifth homer in six games snapped a 4-4 deadlock in the sixth inning and sparked Minnesota past Cleveland. The Twins added three runs in the seventh, two on Rich Rollins' single. Max Alvis and Leon Wagner homered for the Indians.

A double by Sam Bowens and Russ Snyder's single in the 12th inning gave Baltimore a victory in the game suspended Saturday night because of a city curfew.

But the Athletics stormed back in the regular game as Phil Roof drove in three runs and Ken Harrelson and Bert Campaneris two each.

Jim Bouton got relief help from Steve Hamilton and Pedro Ramos for his first victory since last June 30. Bouton, who tired in the seventh inning, singled across two runs in the Yankees' three-run sixth. Roger Maris hit a two-run homer for New York in the first.

Don Wert led Detroit past California, driving in six runs in the doubleheader. He knocked in four runs in the opener with a single and a triple and produced a key two-run single in the second inning of the nightcap.

Buckeye Nine Gains College World Series

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State will go to the College World Series in Omaha next week with the pitcher who almost won it for them a year ago.

All-America pitcher Steve Arlin proved once again that he thrives on work when he came on in relief Saturday to nail down the Buckeyes' 14-7 victory over Western Michigan in the final game of the NCAA District 4 tournament here.

He put down a sixth inning rally and then blanked the Broncos for the last three innings. A day earlier, he'd gone nine innings against the same team.

Last year in Omaha, Arlin turned in a 14-inning, 20-strikeout performance with one day's rest. The Bucks lost in the finals to Arizona state the day after Arlin's gem.

Saturday's trouncing of Western Michigan ran the Bucks' total for their three district tournament games to 37. They won 10-3 Friday, and beat Valparaiso, 13-3, Thursday. Their hit total was 40.

The college World Series will be June 13-17 in Omaha.

Others in the finals are Texas, Arizona, top-rated Southern California, St. John's, North Carolina and a New England entry to be determined this week.

Chester Meeting Set

A Chester City Softball League meeting will be held Wednesday evening at the City Park, with all managers interested in entering a team urged to attend.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a working man and always has made a modest salary. We have managed to raise and educate our four children by following my mother's rule: "Eat it all. Wear it out. Sew it up. Do without."

Now that the children are on their own, things could be a lot easier financially, except for one thing. My husband goes on a drinking spree every two or three weeks and places long-distance telephone calls to friends all over North America.

He calls people he hasn't seen in years, like his old Marine buddies. I can tell by his end of the conversation that some of these people don't even remember him.

Furthermore, I can't get it through his head about the different time zones. We live in Santa Barbara. Last night he called a buddy in Buffalo at 11 p. m. and wondered why he didn't get a big hello. He got mad and yelled, "How do you like that jerk—asleep at 11 o'clock?"

I tried to explain that while it is 11 o'clock in California it is 2 a.m. in New York. He said I was crazy.

It burns me up that I have to hunt for bargains to save a few pennies on canned goods while my husband squanders hundreds of dollars on drunken nonsense that he can't even remember the next day. Please tell me what to do.—VERY ANNOYED.

Dear Very: Ask around and determine if any of your local friends have husbands who are similarly afflicted. The boys could form a group known as Telephone Drunks Anonymous. When they get stiff they can call each other up and talk their heads off. This would be a heckuva lot cheaper than calling Buffalo.

If you can't turn up anyone, try waving last month's phone bill before his bloodshot eyes when he begins to go off the deep end. It might help—depending on how smashed he is.

Inside Information

Dear Ann: I had an appointment with my doctor today and something happened that upset me terribly.

When the nurse left the room I picked up the doctor's chart. I had read only a few sentences when the nurse rushed back into the room, snatched the chart from my hands and shouted, "You are not supposed to see this."

I said, "Why not? It's about me, isn't it?" The nurse did not answer. She went to the doctor and told him that I had begun to read the chart and had gotten angry when she took it away.

The doctor sided with the nurse and I blew my top. I told him if I couldn't see the chart I didn't want to see him either. He said, "If that's the way you feel, goodbye."

Please tell me if this is a common practice or if my doctor is just plain mean.—EAU CLAIRE, WIS.

Dear Eau Claire: I know of no physician who allows his patients to see the charts—and for very good reason.

A chart contains the doctor's impressions and suspicions. A patient might interpret these notations as a final diagnosis and be unduly concerned.

If you described the nurse's behavior accurately she was unnecessarily rough with you. I think she owes you an apology—and you owe the doctor one.

Confidentially

TO MARRYING FOR FREEDOM: You may find yourself with LESS freedom than before, "Miss 19." True, your parents won't be able to bug you as in days of yore but marriage carries with it some crushing responsibilities. What you have in mind could mean a more restrictive type of "imprisonment." Cool it, Sister.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Father Slays His 2 Small Children In Pennsylvania

WARREN, Pa. (AP) — A Warren County man recently released from a mental hospital has been charged with murder in the slayings of his two infant children.

Warren County Sheriff D. E. Allen said Edward Sadley, 31, of nearby Pleasant Twp. was found walking along a road near his home Sunday.

At his home, one-year-old Jean Sadley had been shot to death in her crib and her two-year-old brother, John, was lying dead on a bedroom floor.

Allen said the children's mother, Anita, found them when she returned to the house after a short absence.

Dr. Robert Israel, superintendent of the Warren State Hospital, said Sadley was "acutely ill" when admitted to the institution on Jan. 27, but made rapid progress and was discharged on May 7.

Kent Coed Improves After Leap From Span

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP)—A 20-year-old Kent State University coed is recuperating today from injuries received in a fall from the 175-foot-high Beaver Bridge on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Police said when they found Ann Schlee of Castilia, Ohio, in a semi-conscious state Saturday, she admitted jumping but would give no reason. She landed in soft mud along the edge of the Beaver River.

Police said she drove onto the turnpike alone.

Nevada Slates Ballot On Lottery For State

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Nevada voters will decide whether to start the state's first official lottery next November, says Secretary of State John Koontz.

A firm, Silver State Sweep stakes, filed a petition containing more than twice the 13,738 signatures required to place a proposition on the ballot, Koontz said.

Silver State Sweepstakes hopes to acquire an exclusive 10-year franchise on the lottery.

Monthly Report Given On Titles

LISBON — Columbiana County titled 642 new vehicles worth $1,930,018 in May, Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey reports.

The number compares with 567 for April and 637 for May a year ago, but is 92 below the record set in March this year.

Stacey said the Title Department issued 4,492 auto titles, 40 duplicate titles, 1,092 memorandums, six duplicate memorandums, 1,674 notations of liens, 1,360 cancellations of liens and 1,243 acknowledgements.

Sixty - nine civil cases were filed in Common Pleas Court last month.

The title department received cash totaling $6,787, of which the county received $5,082 and the state $1,625. Stacey reports $8,767 was paid the county treasurer in fees collected in common pleas court and the car title department.

The state treasurer received $7,513 from the collection of sales and use tax, $68,570 from the collection of the dealers tax, $1,625 for car title fees and $902 for inspection certificates — a total of $78,610.

I found a friend

What did I know about buying a ring for Janie? I hemmed and hawed in a couple of stores. What should I be looking for?

Then my married sis said "Go to Shaw's . . . they're an old reliable firm." I did—and found a friend, a diamond expert who took the time to start from scratch. He explained the 4 c's (color, cut, clarity, carat weight). He took the mystery out of diamond buying.

Next week Janie's going with me to Shaw's to select her favorite ring style. My friend, the diamond expert, and I have already agreed on the diamond size and price that's right for my budget.

(You know, my Grandad says he found the same friendly help when he bought a Shaw's diamond in 1920!)

Banquet Ends Loop Season

The Terrace Breakfast League wound up its present season with a banquet at Mead's Restaurant in Wellsville Thursday, with 37 members presents.

The Blue Birds team received the bowling championship trophies. The team included Margaret Wycoff, Ruby Lamb, Bonnie Woofter and Emily Briscoe.

Dot Patrick received trophies for high game, 228; high series, 557; high handicap game, 245; high H.C. series, 608; and the WIBC award for high series.

The tables were decorated by the banquet committee, Glenna Fatherly, Vera Rowland and Ruth Hobbs.

Following the banquet, the centerpiece was presented to Mary Robb, league secretary.

Officers for the 1966-67 season are Virginia Carson, president; Dot Patrick, vice president; Marge Neff, sergeant-at-arms, and Mary Robb, secretary-treasurer.

Doubleheaders Mark Action In Colt League

The Dentists swept a doubleheader from the Realtors, 6-2, and 5-0, to highlight Colt League action Sunday.

In other twin bills, the Lawyers topped Central Service, 9-6 in the first game and Central came back to win the second, 6-4, at Columbiana and Riverview took the opener from Salem, 6-4, but lost the nightcap, 4-2, at Salem.

Humphrey paced the opening game victory for the Dentists with two hits. Anderson added a triple to the attack.

Kidder was the winning pitcher, allowing but three hits, including a double by Petkovich of the Realtors.

Stewart suffered the loss on a 5-hitter.

The Dentists used a 5-run fourth inning to spark the victory.

In the second contest, Lovejoy shut out the Realtors on three hits.

Kidder paced the win with two hits as he switched from the pitcher's mound to first base.

Berkan suffered the loss in giving up 8 hits.

Myers banged out a double for the Realtors.

The Dentists got all the runs they needed in the first inning, plating two. They added one in the fifth and two in the sixth.

At Columbiana, the Lawyers took advantage of seven walks to notch the first game victory as they scored nine runs on five hits. All of the scoring for the winners was bunched in the first two frames. They tallied five in the first and four in the second.

Central Service rallied for three runs in both the fifth and sixth innings, but fell short.

Campbell and Beckan had two hits each to lead Central Service. Campbell blasted a home run for one of his safeties.

Morris had two hits to lead the Lawyers.

Dans was the winning pitcher and Walrath suffered the loss.

Central Service rebounded to take the nightcap, with Brewer picking up the victory. He struck out six batters.

Brewer helped his own cause with a triple and received home run support from Stacey.

Bell suffered the loss for the Lawyers.

Central scored two runs in the second, two in the fourth, one in the fifth and one in the sixth inning.

The Lawyers fell short with two-run rallies in the fifth and sixth innings.

Esquires Score Two Victories, Little Diner One

Esquires captured both ends of a twin bill in a slow pitch softball action Sunday, defeating Alex's, 9-6, and Auto Body, 8-4, at Thompson Park.

The Little Diner edged Midland Hotel, 7-6, in other league action at East End.

Rich Manning was the winning pitcher in the first contest for Esquire as he received batting help from Bosworth, Bowersock and H. Adkins. Bosworth and Bowersock each had 3 for 4, with Bosworth clubbing a home run. Adkins smacked two triples.

Bosworth also paced the victory over Auto Body with another 3 for 4 performance, including a single, double and triple.

Bill Ketchum gained the victory for Esquire.

Fritz Evans, Melvin Adkins and Shorty Simms paced the Little Diner over Midland with two hits each.

Jack Bailey picked up three hits for Midland in the loss.

Jack Canton was the winning pitcher and R. Nohe suffered the loss.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Leo Cardenas, Cincinnati, hit four homers and drove in eight runs as the Reds split a doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs.

PITCHING — Gary Peters, Chicago, pitched a two-hitter as the White Sox completed a sweep of a doubleheader with Washington with a 12-0 victory.

'Had To Get Out Or Fry,' Foyt Explains

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — "I knew I had to get out or just fry," bandage-swatched A. J. Foyt said from a hospital bed Sunday.

The ace racing driver was badly burned Saturday in a crack-up during a test run at the Wisconsin State Fair Park here.

The 31-year-old Houston, Tex., driver had been favored to win Sunday's 100-mile Rex Mays classic in a car he had just purchased from Scotland's Jimmy Clark.

A spokesman at the West Allis Memorial Hospital said Foyt suffered second and third degree burns on the face, neck and both hands. The burns covered from nine to 15 per cent of his body, the spokesman said. His condition was listed as good.

Foyt was streaking down the straightaway when the left rear suspension collapsed.

The car rammed into the south wall at the first turn, caromed off and burst into flames as it spun.

Youngstown Man Dies When Struck By Auto

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—A Youngstown, Ohio, man was killed Sunday when struck by a car here.

Police said Edson Ray Aotman, 63, was crossing a street when he was struck by a car driven by Firment Thomas, 22, of Numine. Police charged Thomas with driving while intoxicated.

Dominican Chief Says Peace Unit May Be Retained

SANTO DOMINGO (AP) — President-elect Joaquin Balaguer said Sunday he may keep the Inter-American Peace Force in the Dominican Republic after he is inaugurated July 1.

The 8,500-man force, most of it from the United States, will have to remain "until the problems of civilian disarmament and re-integration of the former rebel constitutionalist troops are resolved," Balaguer said in an interview.

The Inter-American Peace Force grew out of the U. S. forces sent here during the April 1965 revolt to reinstate ex-President Juan Bosch. Balaguer defeated him in the election last week.

Civilian disarmament and the return of the rebel troops to the regular armed forces are two sticky problems that the outgoing provisional government failed to solve.

Secret Meeting Held By East Europe Reds

MOSCOW (AP)—East European Communist foreign ministers opened a secret meeting today to prepare for a Red summit meeting in July.

Communist sources said it would last two or three days. The sources said the foreign ministers of the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary and Romania were attending along with a deputy foreign minister from Poland.

A similar meeting convened here secretly May 27. Both are believed preparing for the July meeting at which the Romanians are expected to press for less Soviet domination.

9 Hits In Row; Four Homers For Cardenas

By MIKE RATHET

Leo Cardenas fell one homer shy of a record. He won't get another chance — without starting over.

Willie Stargell fell one hit shy of a record. But he will get another chance — without starting over.

Cardenas, Cincinnati's 160 pound shortstop, slammed four homers and drove in eight runs as the Reds split a doubleheader with Chicago Sunday, winning the opener 8-3 before the Cubs took the nightcap 9-5.

By hitting four homers in a twinbill, Cardenas accomplished a feat that hadn't been done since the 1963 season. But he still fell one shy of the five Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals hit in a 1954 doubleheader.

Cardenas won't get another chance, unless he starts another muscle-flexing streak, but Stargell still has a chance to match the National League and major league records for most consecutive hits.

The Pittsburgh slugger was interrupted by the end of the Pirates' 10-5 victory over Houston after collecting five straight hits, including two homers. And he still had a streak of nine consecutive hits intact.

When the Pirates meet St. Louis Tuesday night he'll get a shot at the NL record of 10 — last achieved by Cincinnati's Woodie Williams in 1943 — and the major league record of 12 — last reached by Walt Dropo of Detroit in 1952.

Elsewhere, Atlanta crushed St. Louis 14-4, San Francisco edged Philadelphia 7-6 in 10 innings and Los Angeles and New York split, the Dodgers cruising to a 16-3 victory before the Mets won the nightcap 3-2.

Cardenas provided all the runs the Reds' needed in the opener, driving five runs with two homers and a single. Ron Santo and Randy Hundley homered for the Cubs.

Cardenas also hit two homers in the nightcap and added a double while driving in three runs, but the Cubs came from behind and won it with a five-run ninth. Billy Williams drove in the tying and lead runs with a two-out single.

Stargell drove in four runs against the Astros with his two homers, two singles and a double leading a 16-hit attack that stretched the Pirates' winning streak to five. Roberto Clemente also homered while Jim Wynn hit a pair of the Astros in a 4-for-4 performance.

The Braves rolled to their third straight victory after a string of seven losses by unloading 16 hits against the Cardinals. Denis Menke led the outburst that included a seven-run fifth inning in which 13 men batted by driving in five runs with a homer and four singles.

The Giants tied the Phillies in the ninth on singles by Tito Fuentes and Willie Mays around a sacrifice, then won it in the 10th when Hal Lanier tagged reliever Bo Belinsky for a two-out homer. Dick Groat drove in four of Philadelphia's runs.

Sandy Koufax won the opener for the Dodgers with a five-hitter, joining San Franciso's Juan Marichal as the majors' only 10-game winners. Koufax was supported by a 19-hit attack that included five straight hits by Tommy Davis and two homers by Wes Parker.

Davis added two hits and Parker added a homer in the nightcap. But the Mets won it in the ninth when they pushed across a run on singles by Ken Boyer and Jerry Grote around an intentional walk, and a wild pitch by reliever Ron Perranoski.

Little League Gets $708 From Tag Day

A total of $708 was realized in Saturday's tag day on behalf of the Little League here, Lawrence Zollinger, chairman, reported.

Peters Looks Like Old Self; Twins Topple Cleveland

By The Associated Press

Gary Peters is putting less kick into his work this season and getting more kicks out of it.

Peters, who isn't lifting his leg as high this year, brought his foot down on Washington Sunday, pitching a two-hitter as the Chicago White Sox completed a sweep of a doubleheader with a 12-0 victory. They won the opener 4-1.

The start for Peters was his first in two weeks, since he strained the bicep in his left arm in the first inning of a game against Cleveland.

"It was the best game I've thrown in two years," said Peters, who didn't allow the Senators a hit until the seventh inning. The performance brought his record to 3-2 and his earned run average to 2.18.

It also gave him two complete games, one more than he had all of last year, and one shutout, also one more than he had last year when he dipped from 20-game season in 1964 to a 10-12 record and a 3.63 ERA.

The 29-year-old left-hander believes a combination of bad timing and incorrect kicking affected his pitching last year.

While Peters is enjoying his pitching more, the rest of the White Sox staff is having fun, too.

The shutout was the sixth in the last 10 games for Chicago, a period which has seen the pitching staff post an amazing ERA of 0.80. In that time, too, the White Sox have won eight games and moved from seventh place, 10½ games back, to fourth place, 5½ out.

Elsewhere in the American League Minnesota whipped Cleveland 9-4, Baltimore edged Kansas City 6-5 in the 12th inning of a suspended game before losing the regular game 9-4, New York downed Boston 5-3 and Detroit swept California 8-4 and 4-1.

Tommie Agee supplied much of the White Sox power, driving in all four runs in the opener with a homer and a tiple and scoring three runs in the second game. Tom McCraw drove in three runs in the nightcap while Don Buford and Smoky Burgess each knocked in two.

Harmon Killebrew's fifth homer in six games snapped a 4-4 deadlock in the sixth inning and sparked Minnesota past Cleveland. The Twins added three runs in the seventh, two on Rich Rollins' single. Max Alvis and Leon Wagner homered for the Indians.

A double by Sam Bowens and Russ Snyder's single in the 12th inning gave Baltimore a victory in the game suspended Saturday night because of a city curfew.

But the Athletics stormed back in the regular game as Phil Roof drove in three runs and Ken Harrelson and Bert Campaneris two each.

Jim Bouton got relief help from Steve Hamilton and Pedro Ramos for his first victory since last June 30. Bouton, who tired in the seventh inning, singled across two runs in the Yankees' three-run sixth. Roger Maris hit a two-run homer for New York in the first.

Don Wert led Detroit past California, driving in six runs in the doubleheader. He knocked in four runs in the opener with a single and a triple and produced a key two-run single in the second inning of the nightcap.

Buckeye Nine Gains College World Series

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State will go to the College World Series in Omaha next week with the pitcher who almost won it for them a year ago.

All-America pitcher Steve Arlin proved once again that he thrives on work when he came on in relief Saturday to nail down the Buckeyes' 14-7 victory over Western Michigan in the final game of the NCAA District 4 tournament here.

He put down a sixth inning rally and then blanked the Broncos for the last three innings. A day earlier, he'd gone nine innings against the same team.

Last year in Omaha, Arlin turned in a 14-inning, 20-strikeout performance with one day's rest. The Bucks lost in the finals to Arizona state the day after Arlin's gem.

Saturday's trouncing of Western Michigan ran the Bucks' total for their three district tournament games to 37. They won 10-3 Friday, and beat Valparaiso, 13-3, Thursday. Their hit total was 40.

The college World Series will be June 13-17 in Omaha.

Others in the finals are Texas, Arizona, top-rated Southern California, St. John's, North Carolina and a New England entry to be determined this week.

Local Team Wins, Loses

The Friendly Merchants of East Liverpool split in two baseball games over the weekend, topping Youngstown Home Club, 8-2, and losing to Beaver, 10-0.

Quateo paced the victory over Youngstown with a triple and three singles. Whittington added two hits.

The Merchants ran into home run power in suffering the loss to Beaver as Morton and Snitger cleared the fences. Snitger also pounded out a triple and a single.

Meeks and Walker had two hits each for the losers.

The Merchants travels to Youngstown today to play at 7 p.m. at Pembleton Park.

Kathy Whitworth Captures 'Open'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "Mickey's great, but she's only human," said Kathy Whitworth, the 1965 women's professional golf leading money winner. Then she vanquished Miss Wright in the $12,500 Clayton Federal Open Tournament.

After surging into the second-round lead Saturday with birdies on the final two holes, Mickey Wright, idle during last season, bogeyed the first three of the last round and finished fifth with 208.

Miss Whitworth shot rounds of 68, 72, and 68 for a one-under-par 208 and a victory worth $1,875. She is now leading on the circuit with total earnings of $10,344 this season.

Yancey Wins At Memphis

Roys Save Day For Bert

By BOB GILBERT

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Roy is a big name in life of Bert Yancey, new champion of the $100,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament.

Both were there Sunday when he needed them for his record-setting journey to a 15-under-par 265, lowest score on the 1966 PGA tour, and $20,000 in first-place prize money.

Roy Stone, a touring caddy, telephoned Yancey at the motel and told him he had only 10 minutes to reach the course to tee off on the final 18 holes.

Roy Sanders, Yancey's caddy during the tournament, talked strategy with the young Philadelphian and suggested the 2-iron shot which Yancey said was his best fairway swing of the day.

Yancey, trailing Gene Littler by one stroke going into the final round, fired a four-under-par 66 for a 265 total, one stroke lower than Cary Middlecoff shot in winning the 1961 title.

"I was putting really well," the 27-year-old Yancey said. He birdied five holes and had only one bogey.

Yancey slept late and then watched television coverage of the Gemini 9 space adventure until 20 minutes before time to tee off. The starting time had been advanced because of TV coverage of the tournament.

"At 11:10, Roy called me and said I was due off at 11:20," he said. "I was never so frightened. I just knew I had blown the whole works."

He reached the tee eight minutes before he would have been disqualified.

Littler, at 270, finished second and won $12,000.

'Feel I Can Run Faster,' Ryun Says After Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — America's fastest miler, Jim Ryun of the University of Kansas, feels he can run faster yet — and if he does, he'll be the world champion miler.

Ryun smashed the American record and missed the world mark of France's Michel Jazy by one-tenth of a second as he turned in a remarkable 3:53.7 performance at the Compton Invitational Saturday night at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

"I was not disappointed," Ryun said of his near miss, "But I feel I could have run a little faster."

The 19-year-old freshman said he would like to run against Jazy himself, but added, "I understand it's a little hard to do." He referred to the Frenchman's seeming reluctance to compete with serious threats away from his homeland.

Ryun's time bettered the American record of 3:54.9 posted at Modesto, Calif., in 1963 by Peter Snell of New Zealand.

Jim Grelle, the Portland, Ore., flash who broke the four minute mile for his 20th time in finishing second. His time was 3:56 flat.

Ryun's official clockings were 59.9, 1:58.5, 2:58.5 and 3:53.7.

Another youngster, 20-year-old Gerry Lindgren of Washington State University ran off with the 5,000 meters in 13:38.0, equalling the American record Bob Schul set at the same meet two years ago.

Four Horses In Contention As King Falls

NEW YORK (AP)—The race for the 3-year-old championship has come full cycle now. With Kauai King's defeat in the Belmont Stakes, it's once again a wide-open affair with at least four horses in strong contention.

The 1¼ miles of the Travers Aug. 20 could be decisive race.

The championship first figured to be a struggle between Graustark and Buckpasser. Then Kauai King took command and appeared to have it all but wrapped up.

The situation changed Saturday when Reginald Webster's Amberoid posted a 2½ length victory in the Belmont Stakes and Kentucky Derby-Preakness winner Kauai King ran fourth. Buckpasser returned to competition on the same Aqueduct card with an authoritative decision over older horses.

With Graustark retired, Creme dela Creme, winner of the Jersey Derby and beaten only once, is the other member of the contending foursome. He sat out the Belmont and is being pointed for the one mile of the $100,000-added Classic at Arlington Park June 25.

While Amberoid and Kauai King are taking vacations from a rigorous campaign, Buckpasser will be very active.

Eddie Neloy has planned a busy campaign for Ogden Phipps' 1965 2-year-old champion following his allowance victory in 1:05 1-5 for six furlongs. The son of Tom Fool, absent with a hoof injury since winning the Flamingo at Hialeah Park early in March, will make his next start in $35,000-added Leonard Richards at Delaware Park June 18 and then return to New York for the Saranac and Dwyer in July.

Amberoid's immediate plans are not definite but he may go west for the American Derby at Arlington park Aug. 6. That's also Kauai King's next objective although trainer Henry Forrest indicated he might send the son of Native Dancer after the Arlington Classic.

After the Classic, Creme dela Creme is scheduled to return to Monmouth Park in New Jersey.

All trainers, however, have indicated that if everything goes well they'll be at Saratoga for the Travers.

Two Win Games In Ruth League

Potters Bank blasted the Hammondsville Royals, 21-8, Sunday and Highlandtown topped Superfood, 10-4, Saturday in Wellsville Babe Ruth League action.

Gary Smith, the winning pitcher, had four hits in five at bats, including three doubles, and was joined by Rickey Arnette, who also went four for five in pacing the victory. Butchy Snyder blasted a home run to help the cause.

Crawford was the losing pitcher.

In Saturday's contest, Ross hit the first home run of the season and went two for three in leading Highlandtown.

Thirty Acre was the winning pitcher and Tom Bobolick suffered the loss.

The chief umpire in the league in Scotty Lioi.

KENNETT, Mo. (AP) — Charlie Strain, an ambulance driver here, broke an arm when he slipped and fell on the ice while loading another ice victim into his ambulance. Strain and his original patient, Bobby Carpenter, 18, both were taken to the hospital by ambulance.

He Skips Exam

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — About 15 minutes after an Indiana University student started a two - hour final examination in one of the classrooms, he hurriedly turned in his paper and left. On the paper he had penned the words: "Goodbye I. U. Saigon, here I come."

Ohioan Captures Sports Car Event

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Chuck Dietrich of Sandusky, his windshield smeared with oil from the blown engine of the car ahead of him, managed to keep going the final two laps and win Sunday's windup feature of Sports Car Club of America competition.

Charles Cox of Minneapolis, Minn., was leading all the way in the 30-minute finale over the 2.4-mile Mid-Ohio course at nearby Lexington until his engine conked out.

Dietrich was close behind, and despite the visibility problem from Fox's spewing oil, went on to win. He averaged 79.455 miles per hour in an Elva BMW.

Dietrich was in a Class E car, and Roy Mumnick of Rolling Meadows, Ill., in a Cooper Ford, finished second to take Class C laurels after Ralph Trieschmann, Northfield, Ill., had to slow up because of Cox's oil on his windshield.

Lorain Police Probe Wounding Of Man, 26

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Police were investigating the fatal shooting of a father of five behind the Club Beneficio early Sunday.

Lorain County Coroner Dr. Paul J. Kopsch said Hector Santiago, 26 was shot in the stomach at close range with a .25-caliber pistol.

To prevent moisture damage to walls in your home from water vapor that arises from washing, drying clothes and cooking, air your entire house regularly. This lets moisture out as well as fresh air in.

Black Ties For First In VFW Golf Tourney

Don Black of Post 66 fired a 38-43-81 to tie for the first place in Class A competition during the VFW golf tournament at the Riceland Golf Course in Orrville Sunday but lost the flip of the coin to gain runner-up honors.

Seventeen from Post 66 attended the tournament, sponsored by the Orrville post, with nine teams competing.

Representing Post 66 in addition to Black were Tom Scott, Frank Irwing, Dale Reeder, Carl Crabtree, Ralph Schafer, Don Williams, Ken Yost and Dave Brant.

Old cabinets sometimes have an undesirable odor. To do away with this, cover the inside surface with a thin coat of fresh, white shellac. The shellac will seal in the odor.

Doubleheaders Mark Action In Colt League

The Dentists swept a doubleheader from the Realtors, 6-2, and 5-0, to highlight Colt League action Sunday.

In other twin bills, the Lawyers topped Central Service, 9-6 in the first game and Central came back to win the second, 6-4, at Columbiana and Riverview took the opener from Salem, 6-4, but lost the nightcap, 4-2, at Salem.

Humphrey paced the opening game victory for the Dentists with two hits. Anderson added a triple to the attack.

Kidder was the winning pitcher, allowing but three hits, including a double by Petkovich of the Realtors.

Stewart suffered the loss on a 5-hitter.

The Dentists used a 5-run fourth inning to spark the victory.

In the second contest, Lovejoy shut out the Realtors on three hits.

Kidder paced the win with two hits as he switched from the pitcher's mound to first base.

Berkan suffered the loss in giving up 8 hits.

Myers banged out a double for the Realtors.

The Dentists got all the runs they needed in the first inning, plating two. They added one in the fifth and two in the sixth.

At Columbiana, the Lawyers took advantage of seven walks to notch the first game victory as they scored nine runs on five hits. All of the scoring for the winners was bunched in the first two frames. They tallied five in the first and four in the second.

Central Service rallied for three runs in both the fifth and sixth innings, but fell short.

Campbell and Beckan had two hits each to lead Central Service. Campbell blasted a home run for one of his safeties.

Morris had two hits to lead the Lawyers.

Dans was the winning pitcher and Walrath suffered the loss.

Central Service rebounded to take the nightcap, with Brewer picking up the victory. He struck out six batters.

Brewer helped his own cause with a triple and received home run support from Stacey.

Bell suffered the loss for the Lawyers.

Central scored two runs in the second, two in the fourth, one in the fifth and one in the sixth inning.

The Lawyers fell short with two-run rallies in the fifth and sixth innings.

Esquires Score Two Victories, Little Diner One

Esquires captured both ends of a twin bill in a slow pitch softball action Sunday, defeating Alex's, 9-6, and Auto Body, 8-4, at Thompson Park.

The Little Diner edged Midland Hotel, 7-6, in other league action at East End.

Rich Manning was the winning pitcher in the first contest for Esquire as he received batting help from Bosworth, Bowersock and H. Adkins. Bosworth and Bowersock each had 3 for 4, with Bosworth clubbing a home run. Adkins smacked two triples.

Bosworth also paced the victory over Auto Body with another 3 for 4 performance, including a single, double and triple.

Bill Ketchum gained the victory for Esquire.

Fritz Evans, Melvin Adkins and Shorty Simms paced the Little Diner over Midland with two hits each.

Jack Bailey picked up three hits for Midland in the loss.

Jack Canton was the winning pitcher and R. Nohe suffered the loss.

'Had To Get Out Or Fry,' Foyt Explains

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — "I knew I had to get out or just fry," bandage-swatched A. J. Foyt said from a hospital bed Sunday.

The ace racing driver was badly burned Saturday in a crack-up during a test run at the Wisconsin State Fair Park here.

The 31-year-old Houston, Tex., driver had been favored to win Sunday's 100-mile Rex Mays classic in a car he had just purchased from Scotland's Jimmy Clark.

A spokesman at the West Allis Memorial Hospital said Foyt suffered second and third degree burns on the face, neck and both hands. The burns covered from nine to 15 per cent of his body, the spokesman said. His condition was listed as good.

Foyt was streaking down the straightaway when the left rear suspension collapsed.

The car rammed into the south wall at the first turn, caromed off and burst into flames as it spun.

Youngstown Man Dies When Struck By Auto

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—A Youngstown, Ohio, man was killed Sunday when struck by a car here.

Police said Edson Ray Aotman, 63, was crossing a street when he was struck by a car driven by Firment Thomas, 22, of Numine. Police charged Thomas with driving while intoxicated.

Dominican Chief Says Peace Unit May Be Retained

SANTO DOMINGO (AP) — President-elect Joaquin Balaguer said Sunday he may keep the Inter-American Peace Force in the Dominican Republic after he is inaugurated July 1.

The 8,500-man force, most of it from the United States, will have to remain "until the problems of civilian disarmament and re-integration of the former rebel constitutionalist troops are resolved," Balaguer said in an interview.

The Inter-American Peace Force grew out of the U. S. forces sent here during the April 1965 revolt to reinstate ex-President Juan Bosch. Balaguer defeated him in the election last week.

Civilian disarmament and the return of the rebel troops to the regular armed forces are two sticky problems that the outgoing provisional government failed to solve.

Secret Meeting Held By East Europe Reds

MOSCOW (AP)—East European Communist foreign ministers opened a secret meeting today to prepare for a Red summit meeting in July.

Communist sources said it would last two or three days. The sources said the foreign ministers of the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary and Romania were attending along with a deputy foreign minister from Poland.

A similar meeting convened here secretly May 27. Both are believed preparing for the July meeting at which the Romanians are expected to press for less Soviet domination.

By HAL HUMPHREY

Actors Fade Into Politics

Getting your own series on TV may be tougher than becoming president of the United States. Okay, then, would you believe U.S. senator? You'd better, because on the shelves of a Hollywood film vault are two TV pilots starring George Murphy, neither of which was considered good enough by Madison Ave. measurements to become a series.

Hal Humphrey

Many of you may have been under the impression that our now U.S. Sen. Murphy had long ago retired from show business. Except for emceeing the entertainment at the past four Republican National Conventions and a GOP rally here and there, song-and-dance man Murphy wasn't much in the public eye.

-:-

BUT THAT WASN'T because he hadn't been trying. In 1959 actor Murphy made a TV pilot for Desi Arnaz and Lucille Ball at their Desilu Studios. It was a family situation comedy half hour which had Martha Scott playing his wife, and it was titled "You're Only Young Twice."

Two years later (1961) he teamed up with Janet Gaynor at Desilu, but under a different production banner, to shoot a second pilot called "Sweet 16." This one, too, failed to engender any network and-or sponsor interest.

As one agency man puts it, "Song-and-dance men don't have much luck with TV. Look at Mickey Rooney and Ray Bolger, who both had series, but not very successful ones."

IT'S NO GOOD speculating who might have been California's junior senator if either of the Murphy TV pilots had sold. He wouldn't likely have traded a hot TV series for a job as U.S. senator.

Obviously, however, there is a similarity between show business and politics, and when an actor's career begins phasing out on him, it's only natural he'd look toward politics as a second career.

He hasn't said so, but isn't it reasonable to suppose Ronald Reagan took his first serious look at a possible political career only after "Theater" went off CBS-TV in 1962, following a nearly 10-year run?

REAGAN made some guest appearances on TV after that, but nothing very steady unless you count hosting "Death Valley Days." And, unlike George Murphy's situation, apparently no one was hiring him to make a TV pilot for a proposed series.

If Reagan wins California's gubernatorial primary on the Republican ticket Tuesday, several TV producers will be kicking themselves for not having the foresight to see that he still had a grass-roots potential.

Wendell Corey is on the same June 7 California ballot running for congressman in the 28th District. Several years ago Corey was star of a TV series, "Harbor Command," and more recently he was starred in a psychiatric drama series, "11th Hour," which he didn't get to finish.

RALPH BELLAMY took over for the second and last season in 1963-64. Bellamy, by the way, would have a great head start in the field of politics with the image he created by playing Franklin Delano Roosevelt in both the play and movie versions of "Sunrise at Campobello."

On a partisan basis the Republican actors have the edge so far, with Sen. Murphy already in office and Reagan and Corey running in primaries. Steve Allen, a Democrat, intended to run for congressman, but had overlooked registering the year before. In the '40s Helen Gahagan Douglas made it to Congress after a Hollywood career, the only Democrat to do so thus far.

I suppose one might make the case that Democrats are more successful actors, so haven't the need to go into politics. Still, one also could say that only the Republicans are versatile enough to include politics in their histrionic repertoires.

OF THE NEW DROP of actors who seem to have political aspirations there are Robert Vaughn (Democrat Man from U.N.C.L.E), Dan Blocker (Democrat - "Bonanza") and Chuck Connors (Republican-"Branded").

It's always a question, of course, how the electorate will react to such political casting. When movie maker Jack L. Warner first heard Ronald Reagan was running for governor, he is supposed to have said, "Frankly, I would have cast Dennis Morgan as governor and Reagan as his best friend."

No Shortage Expected In Crop Workers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Migrant labor apparently will be more plentiful in Ohio this year than it has been in many years.

"Actually, it looks right now like we are in as good shape as we've ever been," says James Byrne, farm placement chief in the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Byrne says it is too early in the recruitment program to be sure but he indicated Ohio may get as many as 20,000 migrants to help harvest crops.

The figure could go even higher if a proposal to recruit jobless Negroes at Selma, Ala., is approved. That proposal was expected to go today before the policy committee of the Governor's Committee on Migrant Labor.

The figure last year ranged from 14,000 to 18,000 and workers were in short supply at times. This year, with production increases expected in several crops, demand should be even greater.

State officials do not believe a late spring freeze that hit some crops will have much effect on the demand for migrant labor.

They note that only a small percentage of the crops that utilize migrant labor were planted when the freeze hit early last month. Most of these, including tomatoes, were replanted.

There still could be a significant loss of fruit but officials say some trees affected by the freeze may produce after all. Growers won't know for sure until later this month when they watch the annual "June drop" to see how much fruit stays on the trees.

Ohio and other states recruit migrants through the U. S. Labor Department's national service system. It operates through state employment agencies throughout the country. Traditionally, Ohio gets most of its workers in Texas.

Employers and state officials have moved in recent years to make Ohio employment more attractive they feel these changes are putting the state in a better competitive position with other states in recruiting.

Sale Being Held By Church Group

A rummage sale is being held this week through Wednesday by members of the WSCS of the Green Valley Methodist Church at Shippingport.

It opened today at the old Martell building in Midland.

Members were told of the "8-Cs Every Woman Should Know" during a meeting of the group last Wednesday afternoon in the church.

Mrs. Jack McCandless, who was program chairman, explained the 8-Cs as church, chart, change, community, Christian, citizen, commissions and challenge.

Hostesses for coverdish dinner meeting were Mrs. Richard J. Morrow and Mrs. William Bailey.

Mrs. Jack Morrow, president, presided. Seventeen attended.

Mrs. Eugene Russell led devotions.

The next meeting will be in September, with Mrs. Leslie Jones and Mrs. Harry Allison hostesses.

West Virginia Outing Set At Park In Salem

SALEM — The ninth annual picnic of the West Virginia Club will be held at Centennial Park here June 12.

Registration will begin at 10 a. m. for the all-day event.

Played No Part

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. — (AP) — Apparently it wasn't one of the students on the honor roll at Santa Barbara Junior High School who made out the official list of top scholars. The mimeographed document was entitled "Honor Role."

An Apt Location

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — When Louis Saunders resigned as executive secretary of the Fort Worth Council of Churches to accept a similar position in Dallas, he bought a new home here. The location seems ideal. It is at the intersection of Better and Best Streets and only two blocks away from Good Street.

Four Horses In Contention As King Falls

NEW YORK (AP)—The race for the 3-year-old championship has come full cycle now. With Kauai King's defeat in the Belmont Stakes, it's once again a wide-open affair with at least four horses in strong contention.

The 1¼ miles of the Travers Aug. 20 could be decisive race.

The championship first figured to be a struggle between Graustark and Buckpasser. Then Kauai King took command and appeared to have it all but wrapped up.

The situation changed Saturday when Reginald Webster's Amberoid posted a 2½ length victory in the Belmont Stakes and Kentucky Derby-Preakness winner Kauai King ran fourth. Buckpasser returned to competition on the same Aqueduct card with an authoritative decision over older horses.

With Graustark retired, Creme dela Creme, winner of the Jersey Derby and beaten only once, is the other member of the contending foursome. He sat out the Belmont and is being pointed for the one mile of the $100,000-added Classic at Arlington Park June 25.

While Amberoid and Kauai King are taking vacations from a rigorous campaign, Buckpasser will be very active.

Eddie Neloy has planned a busy campaign for Ogden Phipps' 1965 2-year-old champion following his allowance victory in 1:05 1-5 for six furlongs. The son of Tom Fool, absent with a hoof injury since winning the Flamingo at Hialeah Park early in March, will make his next start in $35,000-added Leonard Richards at Delaware Park June 18 and then return to New York for the Saranac and Dwyer in July.

Amberoid's immediate plans are not definite but he may go west for the American Derby at Arlington park Aug. 6. That's also Kauai King's next objective although trainer Henry Forrest indicated he might send the son of Native Dancer after the Arlington Classic.

After the Classic, Creme dela Creme is scheduled to return to Monmouth Park in New Jersey.

All trainers, however, have indicated that if everything goes well they'll be at Saratoga for the Travers.

Two Win Games In Ruth League

Potters Bank blasted the Hammondsville Royals, 21-8, Sunday and Highlandtown topped Superfood, 10-4, Saturday in Wellsville Babe Ruth League action.

Gary Smith, the winning pitcher, had four hits in five at bats, including three doubles, and was joined by Rickey Arnette, who also went four for five in pacing the victory. Butchy Snyder blasted a home run to help the cause.

Crawford was the losing pitcher.

In Saturday's contest, Ross hit the first home run of the season and went two for three in leading Highlandtown.

Thirty Acre was the winning pitcher and Tom Bobolick suffered the loss.

The chief umpire in the league in Scotty Lioi.

Has Severe 'Strain'

KENNETT, Mo. (AP) — Charlie Strain, an ambulance driver here, broke an arm when he slipped and fell on the ice while loading another ice victim into his ambulance. Strain and his original patient, Bobby Carpenter, 18, both were taken to the hospital by ambulance.

He Skips Exam

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — About 15 minutes after an Indiana University student started a two - hour final examination in one of the classrooms, he hurriedly turned in his paper and left. On the paper he had penned the words: "Goodbye I. U. Saigon, here I come."

Ohioan Captures Sports Car Event

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Chuck Dietrich of Sandusky, his windshield smeared with oil from the blown engine of the car ahead of him, managed to keep going the final two laps and win Sunday's windup feature of Sports Car Club of America competition.

Charles Cox of Minneapolis, Minn., was leading all the way in the 30-minute finale over the 2.4-mile Mid-Ohio course at nearby Lexington until his engine conked out.

Dietrich was close behind, and despite the visibility problem from Fox's spewing oil, went on to win. He averaged 79.455 miles per hour in an Elva BMW.

Dietrich was in a Class E car, and Roy Mumnick of Rolling Meadows, Ill., in a Cooper Ford, finished second to take Class C laurels after Ralph Trieschmann, Northfield, Ill., had to slow up because of Cox's oil on his windshield.

Lorain Police Probe Wounding Of Man, 26

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Police were investigating the fatal shooting of a father of five behind the Club Beneficio early Sunday.

Lorain County Coroner Dr. Paul J. Kopsch said Hector Santiago, 26 was shot in the stomach at close range with a 25-caliber pistol.

To prevent moisture damage to walls in your home from water vapor that arises from washing, drying clothes and cooking, air your entire house regularly. This lets moisture out as well as fresh air in.

Black Ties For First In VFW Golf Tourney

Don Black of Post 66 fired a 38-43-81 to tie for the first place in Class A competition during the VFW golf tournament at the Riceland Golf Course in Orrville Sunday but lost the flip of the coin to gain runner-up honors.

Seventeen from Post 66 attended the tournament, sponsored by the Orrville post, with nine teams competing.

Representing Post 66 in addition to Black were Tom Scott, Frank Irwing, Dale Reeder, Carl Crabtree, Ralph Schafer, Don Williams, Ken Yost and Dave Brant.

Old cabinets sometimes have an undesirable odor. To do away with this, cover the inside surface with a thin coat of fresh, white shellac. The shellac will seal in the odor.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Actors Fade Into Politics

Getting your own series on TV may be tougher than becoming president of the United States. Okay, then, would you believe U.S. senator? You'd better, because on the shelves of a Hollywood film vault are two TV pilots starring George Murphy, neither of which was considered good enough by Madison Ave. measurements to become a series.

Hal Humphrey

Many of you may have been under the impression that our now U.S. Sen. Murphy had long ago retired from show business. Except for emceeing the entertainment at the past four Republican National Conventions and a GOP rally here and there, song-and-dance man Murphy wasn't much in the public eye.

-:-

BUT THAT WASN'T because he hadn't been trying. In 1959 actor Murphy made a TV pilot for Desi Arnaz and Lucille Ball at their Desilu Studios. It was a family situation comedy half hour which had Martha Scott playing his wife, and it was titled "You're Only Young Twice."

Two years later (1961) he teamed up with Janet Gaynor at Desilu, but under a different production banner, to shoot a second pilot called "Sweet 16." This one, too, failed to engender any network and-or sponsor interest.

As one agency man puts it, "Song-and-dance men don't have much luck with TV. Look at Mickey Rooney and Ray Bolger, who both had series, but not very successful ones."

IT'S NO GOOD speculating who might have been California's junior senator if either of the Murphy TV pilots had sold. He wouldn't likely have traded a hot TV series for a job as U.S. senator.

Obviously, however, there is a similarity between show business and politics, and when an actor's career begins phasing out on him, it's only natural he'd look toward politics as a second career.

He hasn't said so, but isn't it reasonable to suppose Ronald Reagan took his first serious look at a possible political career only after "Theater" went off CBS-TV in 1962, following a nearly 10-year run?

-:-

REAGAN made some guest appearances on TV after that, but nothing very steady unless you count hosting "Death Valley Days." And, unlike George Murphy's situation, apparently no one was hiring him to make a TV pilot for a proposed series.

If Reagan wins California's gubernatorial primary on the Republican ticket Tuesday, several TV producers will be kicking themselves for not having the foresight to see that he still had a grass-roots potential.

Wendell Corey is on the same June 7 California ballot running for congressman in the 28th District. Several years ago Corey was star of a TV series, "Harbor Command," and more recently he was starred in a psychiatric drama series, "11th Hour," which he didn't get to finish.

RALPH BELLAMY took over for the second and last season in 1963-64. Bellamy, by the way, would have a great head start in the field of politics with the image he created by playing Franklin Delano Roosevelt in both the play and movie versions of "Sunrise at Campobello."

On a partisan basis the Republican actors have the edge so far, with Sen. Murphy already in office and Reagan and Corey running in primaries. Steve Allen, a Democrat, intended to run for congressman, but had overlooked registering the year before. In the '40s Helen Gahagan Douglas made it to Congress after a Hollywood career, the only Democrat to do so thus far.

I suppose one might make the case that Democrats are more successful actors, so haven't the need to go into politics. Still, one also could say that only the Republicans are versatile enough to include politics in their histrionic repertoires.

OF THE NEW DROP of actors who seem to have political aspirations there are Robert Vaughn (Democrat Man from U.N.C.L.E), Dan Blocker (Democrat - "Bonanza") and Chuck Connors (Republican-"Branded").

It's always a question, of course, how the electorate will react to such political casting. When movie maker Jack L. Warner first heard Ronald Reagan was running for governor, he is supposed to have said, "Frankly, I would have cast Dennis Morgan as governor and Reagan as his best friend."

No Shortage Expected In Crop Workers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Migrant labor apparently will be more plentiful in Ohio this year than it has been in many years.

"Actually, it looks right now like we are in as good shape as we've ever been," says James Byrne, farm placement chief in the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Byrne says it is too early in the recruitment program to be sure but he indicated Ohio may get as many as 20,000 migrants to help harvest crops.

The figure could go even higher if a proposal to recruit jobless Negroes at Selma, Ala., is approved. That proposal was expected to go today before the policy committee of the Governor's Committee on Migrant Labor.

The figure last year ranged from 14,000 to 18,000 and workers were in short supply at times. This year, with production increases expected in several crops, demand should be even greater.

State officials do not believe a late spring freeze that hit some crops will have much effect on the demand for migrant labor.

They note that only a small percentage of the crops that utilize migrant labor were planted when the freeze hit early last month. Most of these, including tomatoes, were replanted.

There still could be a significant loss of fruit but officials say some trees affected by the freeze may produce after all. Growers won't know for sure until later this month when they watch the annual "June drop" to see how much fruit stays on the trees.

Ohio and other states recruit migrants through the U. S. Labor Department's national service system. It operates through state employment agencies throughout the country. Traditionally, Ohio gets most of its workers in Texas.

Employers and state officials have moved in recent years to make Ohio employment more attractive they feel these changes are putting the state in a better competitive position with other states in recruiting.

Sale Being Held By Church Group

A rummage sale is being held this week through Wednesday by members of the WSCS of the Green Valley Methodist Church at Shippingport.

It opened today at the old Martell building in Midland.

Members were told of the "8-Cs Every Woman Should Know" during a meeting of the group last Wednesday afternoon in the church.

Mrs. Jack McCandless, who was program chairman, explained the 8-Cs as church, chart, change, community, Christian, citizen, commissions and challenge.

Hostesses for coverdish dinner meeting were Mrs. Richard J. Morrow and Mrs. William Bailey.

Mrs. Jack Morrow, president, presided. Seventeen attended.

Mrs. Eugene Russell led devotions.

The next meeting will be in September, with Mrs. Leslie Jones and Mrs. Harry Allison hostesses.

An Apt Location

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — When Louis Saunders resigned as executive secretary of the Fort Worth Council of Churches to accept a similar position in Dallas, he bought a new home here. The location seems ideal. It is at the intersection of Better and Best Streets and only two blocks away from Good Street.

COMPARE BEFORE YOU BUY ANY MAKE!

The Speedex Tractor has been manufactured in Ohio for over 30 years.

SPEEDEX
SPEEDEX Tractor Co. Ravenna, Ohio

America's first All-Around Riding Lawn and Garden Tractor

The new S-18 is a versatile tractor that has four forward speeds with one reverse in a combined differential and transmission. Each moving part is either a ball bearing or roller bearing running in a bath of oil. This new S-18 will provide the proper speed and power ratio for your mowing, snowthrowing or gardening. The S-18 equipped with SPEEDEX "Unit-Design" attachments (interchangeable with S-14) can perform with or outperform garden tractors costing up to $300 more. This price difference is the result of the SPEEDEX factory to dealer policy and low advertising costs. This tractor is honestly and soundly engineered. It outlasts and outperforms all other tractors manufactured today.

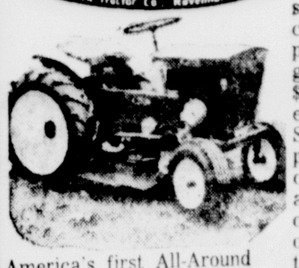
The Speedex Tractor has been manufactured in Ohio for over 30 years.

SPEEDEX
SPEEDEX Tractor Co. Ravenna, Ohio



America's first All-Around Riding Lawn and Garden Tractor

The new S-18 is a versatile tractor that has four forward speeds with one reverse in a combined differential and transmission. Each moving part is either a ball bearing or roller bearing running in a bath of oil. This new S-18 will provide the proper speed and power ratio for your mowing, snowthrowing or gardening. The S-18 equipped with SPEEDEX "Unit-Design" attachments (interchangeable with S-14) can perform with or outperform garden tractors costing up to $300 more. This price difference is the result of the SPEEDEX factory to dealer policy and low advertising costs. This tractor is honestly and soundly engineered. It outlasts and outperforms all other tractors manufactured today.

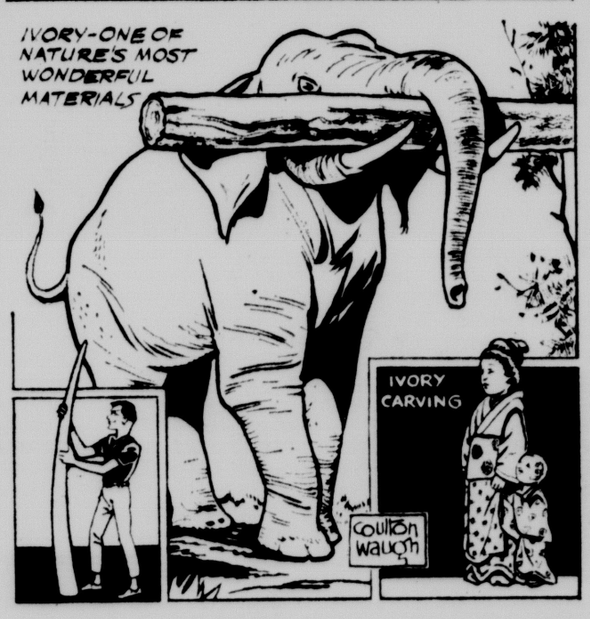
SOLUTION OF SATURDAY'S PUZZLE

Junior Editors Quiz on IVORY



QUESTION: Why are elephant's teeth made of ivory?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: This question sounds as if an elephant should be very happy to have such a precious and valuable material in his mouth. While ivory is a wonderful substance, nature has created it, not as a thing in itself, but because it is so valuable to the elephant, the walrus, the narwhal, and the hippopotamus. These animals have ivory teeth or tusks because they are flexible as well as strong, making them efficient tools for living and food gathering. The elephant grubs up food and fights with his tusks. He also uses them for picking up heavy objects, as in our picture. The tusks would break off unless they were made of a flexible material such as ivory. Elephant ivory is the finest and most valuable of all and has been used since Egyptian days for carving. It is a beautiful, hard, creamy white material with an almost invisible grain. The most delicate carvings can be made in it, as shown by the little Japanese figures at lower right. A good-sized tusk may be six feet long (lower left). Although chemically-made substitutes are often used, fine elephant ivory is still in demand, for many articles can be made from it. Some of these are knife handles, combs, chessmen, piano keys and billiard balls.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is an interesting way to find out if a piece of ivory is really made of a valuable elephant tusk. Examine it and see if you can find a place on it where it has been sawed directly across. If this is elephant ivory, you will see a delicate cross-hatching of the grain.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, June 6, the 156th day of 1966. There are 208 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1944, the great invasion of Normandy began, signalling the start of the reconquest of a continent the Nazis boasted they had turned into a fortress.

On this date

In 1755, the American soldier and patriot, Nathan Hale, was born.

In 1871, Alsace was annexed to Germany after France was defeated in the Franco-Prussian War.

In 1942, the U.S. aircraft carrier Yorktown was sunk in the Battle of Midway in the Pacific.

In 1945, Navy Secretary James Forrestal urged the Navy be permanently kept at its wartime strength to safeguard future world peace.

In 1945, Brazil declared war on Japan, leaving Colombia a the only westen hemispheric nation which was not at war with Japan.

Ten years ago — Soviet Premier Bulganin urged the United States, Britain and France to reduce their occupation forces in West Germany in line with Soviet troop withdrawals in East Germany.

Five years ago — President Kennedy returned to the United States after a one-week European tour which included stops in Paris for talks with French President De Gaulle, in Vienna for meetings with Soviet Premier Khrushchev and in London for a get-together with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruso —

Dear Heloise: With four teenage sons in the family, there was a constant laundry-problem with oily, soiled, hard-to-wash pillow slips. I finally solved it by making pillow slips from inexpensive bath towels which I bought on sale!

Beach towels (when bought on sale) make lovely pillow slips for teen-agers. Since there is so much material in the towels, sometimes three slips can be made from one towel by using the salvage as the hem on each slip.

Believe me, Heloise, this certainly has saved the ticking on my pillows.

But the best part about it is that they don't have to be ironed at all.

MOTHER.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: I place my closed spice cans upside down on the shelf to keep the dust off the tops.

MRS. W. J.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a very helpful hint for children (and adults, too) who attend summer camp for a month or so.

Before packing, find three or four boxes about the same height as the rim of the trunk or footlocker you are planning to use.

There should be one fairly square box for Bermudas and slacks (or dungarees), and another for shirts, sweaters, and blouses. A fairly skinny one is fine for socks and underpants.

Arrange these boxes in the bottom of the trunk, put in the garments and label the top of each box.

Your packing job will be much easier.

Last year was my fourth year at a camp, and this system really improved my neatness.

LINDA LLOYD,
14 YEARS OLD.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: Did you have a jar of expensive face cream, etc., spoil during the summer months? Well . . . I did!

Now I keep all face and hand creams on the bottom shelf in the refrigerator, and don't lose a bit.

Patting chilled cold cream on my face on a hot day is very refreshing.

DELILAH.

DEAR HELOISE: I use plain cornstarch to shine the chrome fixture on my sink, coffee pot or any chrome household appliance.

I find it leaves them nice and shiny, and doesn't scratch them.

MRS. PHIL UMBAUGH.

True!

Either use a dry rag with a dab of cornstarch . . . or dampen a rag slightly, dip into the starch, and then polish.

A clean dry rag will buff it beautifully.

Thanks from the bottom of my toes for passing that hint along.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: During the spring and summer we go on picnics almost every weekend.

I save junior-size baby food jars, and when I pack our picnic lunch, I put a couple tablespoons of dry baby cereal into one of the jars.

BILLIE L. McDANIEL.

DEAR HELOISE: Since Mother doesn't want me to use her glasses to mix my tempra paints in, I simply use a paper cup.

I cut off some of the top of the cup and use the bottom part to mix and make the color of paint I want.

Later I just throw away the used paper cup and have no mess to wash.

Mothers will like this.

Girl Kisses Man, He's Arrested In Pittsburgh Case

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Richard S. Wright, 23, a schoolteacher from Orange City, Iowa, was kissed by his girl friend Sunday and wound up in jail.

Police said Wright was driving down a street in Pittsburgh's Esplen section with his arm around his girlfriend when she leaned over and kissed him. A patrolman pulled him over to the curb and wrote a ticket for reckless driving.

Police said Wright protested the writing of the ticket, so they charged him with disorderly conduct.

Then, according to police, Wright ripped the ticket in two and threw it on the street. The patrolman charged him with violating the city's street littering ordinance.

Wright was taken to the city jail and placed on $50 bond.

Police said Wright later apologized for his conduct, and all but the reckless driving charge was withdrawn. He was allowed to go on his way pending later action.

Salineville Man Given Degree At Bowling Green

SALINEVILLE — Ray A. Mundy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mundy of R.D. 1, received a liberal arts degree with a major in business administration at the annual commencement exercises Saturday at Bowling Green State University.

A 1960 graduate of Salineville High School, Mundy held campus positions as chairman of the student discipline board, president of Kappa Sigma Fraternity, senior justice on the Student Court, and parliamentarian and member of the interfraternity council.

He held an undergraduate assistantship in the department of marketing. He was honored by Beta Tau Circle of Omicron Delta Kapp, national men's honorary, for leadership in outstanding contributions to student government, social and religious affairs. He was listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" for 1966. He won Kappa Sigma's 1966 trophy for outstanding service and received a distinguished service award presented by the president of Bowling Green for service to the university.

Mundy is planning post-graduate work in marketing. His parents attended the commencement exercises.

Dickinson Bars Move By Frat Headquarters

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — National headquarters of fraternities and sororities which have chapters on the campus of Dickinson College have been barred from interfering in the selection of pledges there.

The school's board of trustees adopted a statement that forbids any interference by the national headquarters.

FINGERPRINT LIKENESS

Q. Is it true that no two fingerprints are ever alike?

A. The probability of two persons having identical fingerprints is estimated to be about 1 in 64 billion. Man's awareness of the patterned ridges on his fingers and palms goes back thousands of years. The most famous fingerprint designs are carvings on the walls of Neolithic burial passages on an island off Brittany. Chinese documents of about 800 A.D. refer to fingerprints being impressed upon contracts and other documents.

REPEAT MUMPS

Q. If a person has mumps on one side is it possible to have an attack later on the other side?

A. Probably not. Mumps produces some general immunity or protection against subsequent attacks but the degree of immunity is not as great as that following such diseases as measles or chicken pox. Regardless of the extent of immunity, mumps is not likely to be localized. Therefore, development of mumps "on the other side" probably never occurs.

Answers appearing in these columns are of necessity brief and general and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all physicians. Remember—the diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

The personal interest we take in the health of those we serve is of equal importance with the professional skill we put in the dispensing of prescribed medicine.

Is there really a Tiger in Enco Extra?

Some folks doubt it.

But not our customers. They've proved to their own satisfaction that High-energy Enco Extra can bring power back alive.

That the first tankful starts neutralizing power-robbing engine deposits to help prevent hot spots and misfiring. And just a few more tankfuls can clean up a fouled carburetor to restore lost power and mileage.

And that Enco Extra gives them the high octane for lively performance—to help them pass safely when they need to or take off in a hurry when they enter a freeway. Oh, it's a Tiger all right.

Still skeptical? Try Enco Extra and find out for yourself. "Happy Motoring!"*

Junior Editors Quiz on IVORY

QUESTION: Why are elephant's teeth made of ivory?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: This question sounds as if an elephant should be very happy to have such a precious and valuable material in his mouth. While ivory is a wonderful substance, nature has created it, not as a thing in itself, but because it is so valuable to the elephant, the walrus, the narwhal, and the hippopotamus. These animals have ivory teeth or tusks because they are flexible as well as strong, making them efficient tools for living and food gathering. The elephant grubs up food and fights with his tusks. He also uses them for picking up heavy objects, as in our picture. The tusks would break off unless they were made of a flexible material such as ivory. Elephant ivory is the finest and most valuable of all and has been used since Egyptian days for carving. It is a beautiful, hard, creamy white material with an almost invisible grain. The most delicate carvings can be made in it, as shown by the little Japanese figures at lower right. A good-sized tusk may be six feet long (lower left). Although chemically-made substitutes are often used, fine elephant ivory is still in demand, for many articles can be made from it. Some of these are knife handles, combs, chessmen, piano keys and billiard balls.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is an interesting way to find out if a piece of ivory is really made of a valuable elephant tusk. Examine it and see if you can find a place on it where it has been sawed directly across. If this is elephant ivory, you will see a delicate cross-hatching of the grain.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, June 6, the 156th day of 1966. There are 208 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1944, the great invasion of Normandy began, signalling the start of the reconquest of a continent the Nazis boasted they had turned into a fortress.

On this date

In 1755, the American soldier and patriot, Nathan Hale, was born.

In 1871, Alsace was annexed to Germany after France was defeated in the Franco-Prussian War.

In 1942, the U.S. aircraft carrier Yorktown was sunk in the Battle of Midway in the Pacific.

In 1945, Navy Secretary James Forrestal urged the Navy be permanently kept at its wartime strength to safeguard future world peace.

In 1945, Brazil declared war on Japan, leaving Colombia a the only westen hemispheric nation which was not at war with Japan.

Ten years ago — Soviet Premier Bulganin urged the United States, Britain and France to reduce their occupation forces in West Germany in line with Soviet troop withdrawals in East Germany.

Five years ago — President Kennedy returned to the United States after a one-week European tour which included stops in Paris for talks with French President De Gaulle, in Vienna for meetings with Soviet Premier Khrushchev and in London for a get-together with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Girl Kisses Man, He's Arrested In Pittsburgh Case

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Richard S. Wright, 23, a schoolteacher from Orange City, Iowa, was kissed by his girl friend Sunday and wound up in jail.

Police said Wright was driving down a street in Pittsburgh's Esplen section with his arm around his girlfriend when she leaned over and kissed him. A patrolman pulled him over to the curb and wrote a ticket for reckless driving.

Police said Wright protested the writing of the ticket, so they charged him with disorderly conduct.

Then, according to police, Wright ripped the ticket in two and threw it on the street. The patrolman charged him with violating the city's street littering ordinance.

Wright was taken to the city jail and placed on $50 bond.

Police said Wright later apologized for his conduct, and all but the reckless driving charge was withdrawn. He was allowed to go on his way pending later action.

Beef Producers' Unit To Convene Thursday

LISBON — The Ferndale Farm on Route 224, 1.5 miles east of Canfield, will be host to the Columbiana - Mahoning Beef Producers twilight meeting at 7 p. m. Thursday.

Manager Ed Taylor will discuss operations at the farm. William Wharton, extension specialist in animal science at Ohio State University, will discuss "What We Are Looking For in a Beef Animal Today," and show 4-H'ers how to show cattle.

Women Set Meeting

WEST POINT — The Ladies Guild of St. Agatha Mission will meet at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the church hall. Miss Rose Piper, a registered nurse at Salem City Hospital, will discuss first aid in the home.

Salineville Man Given Degree At Bowling Green

SALINEVILLE — Ray A. Mundy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mundy of R.D. 1, received a liberal arts degree with a major in business administration at the annual commencement exercises Saturday at Bowling Green State University.

A 1960 graduate of Salineville High School, Mundy held campus positions as chairman of the student discipline board, president of Kappa Sigma Fraternity, senior justice on the Student Court, and parliamentarian and member of the interfraternity council.

He held an undergraduate assistantship in the department of marketing. He was honored by Beta Tau Circle of Omicron Delta Kapp, national men's honorary, for leadership in outstanding contributions to student government, social and religious affairs. He was listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" for 1966. He won Kappa Sigma's 1966 trophy for outstanding service and received a distinguished service award presented by the president of Bowling Green for service to the university.

Mundy is planning post-graduate work in marketing. His parents attended the commencement exercises.

Dickinson Bars Move By Frat Headquarters

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — National headquarters of fraternities and sororities which have chapters on the campus of Dickinson College have been barred from interfering in the selection of pledges there.

The school's board of trustees adopted a statement that forbids any interference by the national headquarters.

FINGERPRINT LIKENESS

Q. Is it true that no two fingerprints are ever alike?

A. The probability of two persons having identical fingerprints is estimated to be about 1 in 64 billion. Man's awareness of the patterned ridges on his fingers and palms goes back thousands of years. The most famous fingerprint designs are carvings on the walls of Neolithic burial passages on an island off Brittany. Chinese documents of about 800 A.D. refer to fingerprints being impressed upon contracts and other documents.

REPEAT MUMPS

Q. If a person has mumps on one side is it possible to have an attack later on the other side?

A. Probably not. Mumps produces some general immunity or protection against subsequent attacks but the degree of immunity is not as great as that following such diseases as measles or chicken pox. Regardless of the extent of immunity, mumps is not likely to be localized. Therefore, development of mumps "on the other side" probably never occurs.

Answers appearing in these columns are of necessity brief and general and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all physicians. Remember—the diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

The personal interest we take in the health of those we serve is of equal importance with the professional skill we put in the dispensing of prescribed medicine.

Is there really a Tiger in Enco Extra?

Some folks doubt it.

But not our customers. They've proved to their own satisfaction that High-energy Enco Extra can bring power back alive.

That the first tankful starts neutralizing power-robbing engine deposits to help prevent hot spots and misfiring. And just a few more tankfuls can clean up a fouled carburetor to restore lost power and mileage.

And that Enco Extra gives them the high octane for lively performance—to help them pass safely when they need to or take off in a hurry when they enter a freeway. Oh, it's a Tiger all right.

Still skeptical? Try Enco Extra and find out for yourself. "Happy Motoring!"*
